U-BOAT WAR FAILURE SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Tells House of Commons American Fleet Helped In Success

THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT IS TO BE DISAPPOINTED

War is Lost Now If Kaiser Counted On Success of U-Boats

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 25.—"The successes against submarines however resulted in a distinct improvement in our food situation," said Premier Lloyd George today in the House of Commons.

The premier said more effective blows had been dealt the submarines during the last three weeks than in any corresponding period of the war. The shipping losses for May, the premier said, probably would show a reduction from the April figures. In speaking of the success of the anti-submarine methods he said:

"We owe a very considerable debt of gratitude to the great American people for the effective assistance they have rendered, and the craft they have placed at our disposal. Now that the American nation is in the war it is easier to make arrangements for the protection of our mercantile marine than it was before."

Mr. Lloyd George asserted there was no danger to the country from starvation but that the utmost economy in use of foodstuffs was still essential.

"The submarine menace need cause no fear that the war is going to be lost for that reason," he declared. "It is not for that reason that I see that today the Germans are depending mainly on submarine warfare for success," said Mr. Lloyd George. "All I can say is that if in their main hope of success it is doomed to disappointment. I say it with a full sense of responsibility and on behalf of the government after full consideration of the whole facts. That does not mean that the people need not economize, that farmers need not plow their land. It means that if everyone does his duty the German hope of triumph in the war based on submarines is the greatest miscalculation of that sated empire. If every one does his duty patriotically each in his own way to the common stock, then I say the submarine is not going to defeat us."

HOOVER TELLS OF WORK TO BE DONE BY THE RED CROSS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 25.—Plans for organizing committees in every community in the United States to solicit contributions for a $100,000,000 Red Cross fund, began to take shape today at the second day's session of the conference of representatives of 40 cities called to discuss the campaign. The money is to be spent for relief both on battlefields and among populations of devastated territory.

Among the speakers on today's program were Major General Pershing, Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary Baker and former President Taft. Mr. Hoover told the conference he estimated the rehabilitation of northern France alone would cost about $1,500,000. "I made a rough estimate of the cost to rehabilitate one little parcel of population for more than a year to give them the roughest kind of housing and the roughest kind of food and clothing," he said. "Altogether the rehabilitation of northern France will cost about a million and half."

"Then, too, the orphans of France increase day by day. That service is one which probably touches more closely to us here than anything else. On the children of France, rests absolutely the hope of France, for France is depending on her men on a pyre devoted to liberty and a pyre devoted to our protection. On these devoted problems the American people have outlet for all their generosity and capacity of organization."

"The problem of Belgium is much the same as that of France, though of less dimensions."

Major General Pershing, who will lead the first expeditionary force to Europe endorsed the plan of helping the destitute French rehabilitate their country.

SPENDS MILLIONS TO BEST U-BOATS

William Denman.

William Denman, of San Francisco, Cal., is chairman of the United States shipping board, which will superintend the construction of a huge cargo fleet to carry food and munitions to our European allies. The board is to have $750,000,000 for this purpose.

TRANSYLVANIA IS TORPEDOED TWICE BEFORE DESTROYED

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 25.—Survivors of the torpedoed transport Transylvania who are now in England, say that the vessel was struck by the first torpedo at 10 o'clock in the morning. The ship was greatly damaged but the engines were uninjured and the captain tried to reach shore, several miles distant, in the hope of beaching the vessel. A quarter of an hour later a second torpedo hit the engine room and the ship was brought to a standstill and began to settle.

The first torpedo is believed to have killed a large number of men while the second caused the death of most of those in the engine room and stockhold, wrecked the machinery, put the electric lights out of commission and tore away a large part of the side of the vessel. It also struck a loaded boat, blowing it to pieces.

All the boats were rapidly lowered, the nurses aboard disembarking first. The soldiers, who lined up on the deck, shouted jocular farewells and sang "Shutter" and other soldier songs. Destroyers raced to the rescue and worked energetically until crowded to capacity with survivors, many of whom were injured.

Accounts of the rescue work differ. Some say all who survived the explosion were saved and another account claims that owing to the lumpy sea and the dangerous position of the steamer a party of about 150 soldiers could not be rescued. All accounts indicate that the great bulk of the casualties was due to the explosion of the torpedoes and that none of the nurses were lost. The ship sank fifty minutes after a second torpedo struck her and the survivors were landed at a port where they were given a great reception.

Captain Breuvel who jumped into the sea when the decks of the ship were awash, was picked up in an exhausted condition, and died in a hospital ashore. One of the nurses says that the life boat in which she embarked was much overcrowded, and, notwithstanding constant bailing, was soon full of water owing to the rough choppy sea. She was washed overboard but swam back. The occupants of the boat were rescued by a destroyer after two hours at sea. Some of the men swam ashore.

ABSENTEES SEND REGISTRATION TO LOCAL OFFICIALS

The first Newark man away from home to send in a registration card for conscription today, was Ross Haig, a traveling salesman from this city, who registered from Elmira, N. Y. He is 21 years of age and eligible, making no claims for exemption.

The second to register was Joseph T. Ferguson, an assistant traveling auditor for the state, who sent his card in from Shawnee, O. He also is within the age limit.

Ralph Davis and Amos Paul Brown, 21 and 30 years of age respectively, giving their occupation as actors and members of the team of Brown & Davis, traveling on a theatrical boat on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, registered from the south, both claiming exemption on account of chronic ailments.

SOLDIERS FAIL TO QUELL RIOTS AMONG PEASANTS

Russian Interior Reports Mob Violence, Incendiarism and Anarchy

SOLDIERS LEVY NEW TAX TO INCREASE OWN PAY

Agriculture Suffers As Result of Disorders in the Minsk Province

(Associated Press Telegram)
Petrograd, May 24, via London, May 25.—The agrarian disorders, wholesale confiscation of property, incendiarism and other dangerous symptoms of anarchy which followed the overthrow of the old authority in many important industrial centers and agricultural districts of central and southern Russia are becoming more serious, according to dispatches from various points in Bessarabia and Siberia.

In many cities the soldiers committees, by taking prompt action have succeeded in anticipating revolts and in restraining the impulse of the population toward indiscriminate confiscation and all kinds of lawlessness. In others, however, the peasants, defying restraint, have burned or sacked and appropriated government and private properties and a general state of anarchy prevails. The following resume of telegrams indicative how acute the troubles in the interior have become and how, like contagion, it has crept from one district to another.

Yeniseisk, in Central Siberia, reports that during the last three weeks 30 houses were burned and that the population is in a condition of panic. Men of various foreign nationalities, headed by anarchist leaders and escaped criminals, have overrun the district, the advice state. The local council of workmen and soldiers deputies declared martial law, and all public institutions and officials are under the order of a military dictator.

According to dispatch from Tashkent in the government of Saratov, all authority has been overthrown in the city which is completely in the hands of the peasants. The soldiers levied a contribution of 1,500,000 rubles for the increase of their pay and confiscated ships on the Volga. A farm belonging to Madam Bekmarmaretaba, in the Orlov government, was overrun by a mob of 20,000 which wrecked the place doing damage amounting to 750,000 rubles. The art gallery on the estate, which was one of its most valuable possessions, was destroyed except for three religious paintings. The mills also were demolished.

The latest reports from the Minsk government state that the agrarian disorders have reached such a point that they threaten to complete ruin of agriculture there. The public organizations are doing their best to show the peasants the foolishness of their actions. In one district all (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3.)

AUSTRIA CALLS PARLIAMENT; LAWS TO TAX PROFITS

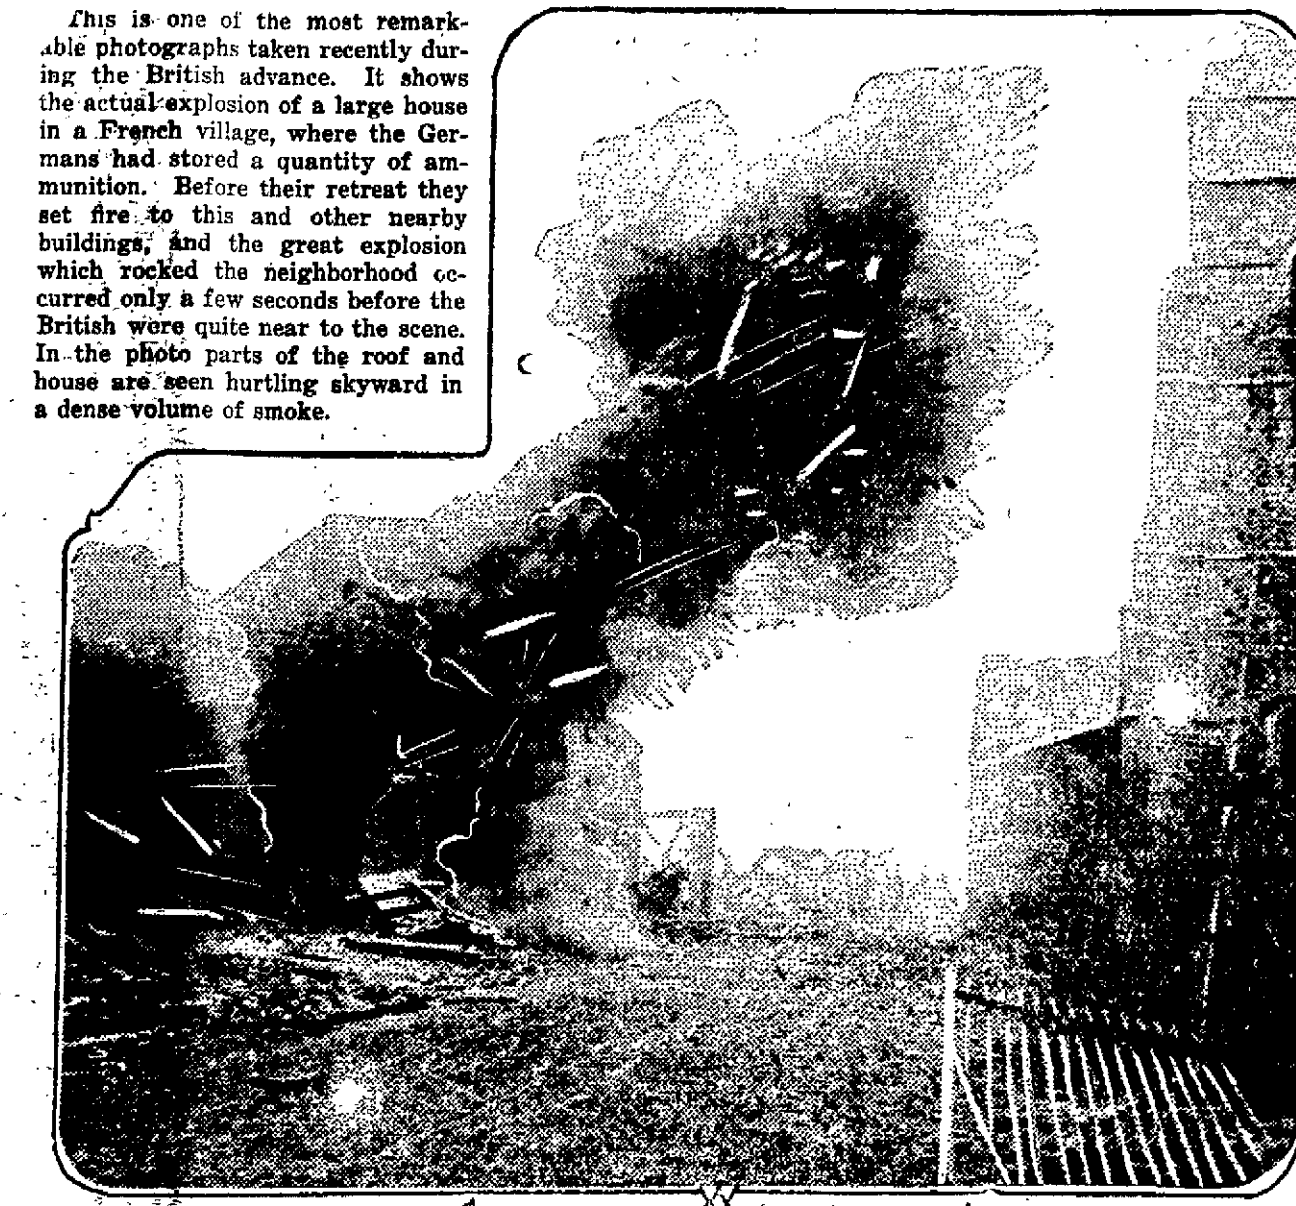

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, May 25, via London. A Vienna telegram says that in the course of a meeting of the representatives of the lower chamber Premier Clam Martinovic expressed the hope that the session would proceed in a manner to increase the reputation of the monarchy abroad. He mentioned bills which would be submitted, including a law on the principle and reason for his act the premier's determined refusal to convene the legislature. On April 26 the government yielded to the growing popular demand and announced that parliament would meet on May 30. Premier Clam Martinovic's address was presumably delivered at a preliminary gathering of the deputies.

The foregoing dispatch gives the first news that the Austrian parliament has convened. The convening of parliament, which has not been in session since the outbreak of the war, has been one of the most acute political questions in Austria. Dr. Friedrich Adler, the assassin of Premier Stürgkh, gave as the principal reason for his act the premier's determined refusal to convene the legislature. On April 26 the government yielded to the growing popular demand and announced that parliament would meet on May 30. Premier Clam Martinovic's address was presumably delivered at a preliminary gathering of the deputies.

NO RELIEF STEAMER LOST.
(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 25.—The statement cradled in a dispatch last night from Haugesund, Norway to an officer of the Norwegian steamer Vibran that a Swedish ship engaged in work of the Belgian relief commission was sunk May 19, although it held a German permit to sail was denied today by the commission. It was stated that no report had been received of the sinking of any relief ship recently.

FLEEING GERMANS BLOW UP FRENCH HOME; PURSUERS SO CLOSE BEHIND THEY GET PHOTO OF VANDAL ACT

This is one of the most remarkable photographs taken recently during the British advance. It shows the actual explosion of a large house in a French village, where the Germans had stored a quantity of ammunition. Before their retreat they set fire to this and other nearby buildings, and the great explosion which rocked the neighborhood occurred only a few seconds before the British were quite near to the scene. In the photo parts of the roof and house are seen hurtling skyward in a dense volume of smoke.

HEBRON HIGH SCHOOL GIRL KILLED BY FALL FROM BUGGY; NECK BROKEN

(Special to The Advocate)
Hebron, May 25.—Barbara C. Rees, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rees, living in Union township, was instantly killed Thursday night, when her neck was broken as she was thrown from a buggy.

Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sherman Rees, she had spent the evening at the W. B. Evans home, where a shower was given for Miss Mabel Ruffner, a bride-to-be. They were leaving the home and in turning the vehicle, the wheels locked, and the scraping noise frightened the horse. The animal lunged, upsetting the buggy and throwing the occupants out. In falling Miss Rees struck on her head, breaking the neck and severing the spinal cord. Death was instantaneous.

Dr. G. N. Brown was called from Hebron, and attended Mrs. Rees, who was suffering from nervous shock, but who suffered no injury from the accident.

ITALIAN TROOPS GAIN NEW GROUND IN LATEST DRIVE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Rome, May 25, via London.—Italian troops engaged in the offensive movement south of Gorizia have captured the fortified heights north of Jamiano, the war office announced today. The Italian positions have been extended still further, the announcement adds.

South of Jamiano to the sea the Italians also gained ground, driving forward south of the Jamiano-Brestovizza road.

The battle is still raging from the sea as far north as Piava. The Italians yesterday and the day before took a total of 10,245 prisoners and much war material.

ITALIAN BLOW TIMELY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 25.—Austrian official statements supplementing the announcement from Rome, indicate that the Italian offensive in the Julian Alps and on the Carso Plateau is steadily growing in importance and extent. General Cadorna is apparently making a supreme effort for a decision and the brilliant successes he has already won have aroused high hopes.

The Italian commander is apparently following the Anglo-English tactics of striking mighty alternative blows at the enemy's flanks. The roar of his guns can already be heard in Trieste but the wilderness of volcanic rocks and caves which lies between him and his goal makes a rapid advance under the most favorable circumstances, a practical impossibility. The most advanced Hebron posts are scarcely more than ten miles from the great Austrian naval base but this distance is not to be compared with an equal extent in an open country.

The deceased was one of the popular members of the Hebron High school, being a member of the junior class. She is survived by her parents, and one brother, Ellis Rees.

The body was removed to the Rees home which was but a short distance from the Evans farm where the accident occurred.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in the Licking cemetery.

Miss Rees is the second high school student in this county to meet violent death in the last few weeks, and a coincidence in connection with the two deaths is that both resulted from a broken neck. Carl Kiser, a Newark High school student, while fishing from a tree along the South Fork, the limb broke and Kiser dived into the stream to save a fall. He struck his head on the creek bottom, and his neck was broken.

pan-Germanism and junkerdom comes on the eve of the assembling of the Austrian parliament, a step bitterly fought by the bureaucrats since the outbreak of the war, and as bitterly contended for by the democratic leaders. The two events give color to the numerous reports that the young emperor, Charles, has democratic leanings and is consequently opposed to the junker ring in Berlin.

A further and highly significant indication of the Austrian emperor's position comes in the report that he has summoned Counts Albert Apponyi and Julius Andrássy to an audience. Both men have been conspicuous for years as leaders of the liberal element in the empire and have been consistent opponents of Count Tisza. Count Apponyi has delivered numerous lectures in the United States and Count Andrássy is credited with having a warm admiration for England and English institutions. He has for many years advocated universal suffrage for Austria-Hungary and is also the father of a scheme for a world forum.

No charge of importance is reported from any of the other war theatres. The British are preparing for another drive in the Arras region but reports of bad weather on that front may possibly delay the blow.

In Russia Minister of War Kerensky is vigorously working to restore the morale of the army and is reported to have met with considerable success. Presumably the demoralization in Russia's fighting forces has forced a halt in the British campaign in Mesopotamia as nothing has been heard from that region for some time.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION.
Columbus, May 25.—The resignation of Dr. Z. B. Campbell of Adams Republican member of the state civil service commission, has been accepted by Governor Cox. The resignation was tendered last January. It has not been announced who will succeed Dr. Campbell.

GERMAN RAILROADS BADLY DEMORALIZED BY LONG CONFLICT

New York, May 25.—(By a Staff correspondent of the Associated Press Just Returned From Vienna.)—Central Europe's food problems have, during recent months, been adversely influenced by the fact that their railroads are losing their efficiency and are no longer able to do their share in the distribution of these necessities. The war has made heavy demands upon the lines and it has been impossible to give trackage and rolling stock the care they require.

For almost two years now the railroads have been neglected. This and the heavy traffic over many of the principal lines due to the war has made the railroad system a mere shadow of what it was formerly. Ballasting has been very indifferently done by old men, boys, women and prisoners of war, with the result that the wear on the ties has been unusually severe, a condition which in its turn has caused a rapid deterioration of the rails and rolling stock.

Lack of skilled labor has prevented the state and private railroads from keeping the rolling stock in good repair. This compelled a lessening in the speed of trains. A reduction of carrying capacity of the roads resulted. Locomotives, especially in poor condition, are very doubtful whether in all of central Europe it would be possible to-day to find an engine capable of performing a service within 60 per cent of its former efficiency.

Hardly a week passes without some wreck. Most of these occur to freight trains since the sweeping reductions in the speed of passenger trains were made last fall. The fact that the lines are then tied up for hours at a time increases the difficulty of the traffic situation. Last winter thousands of tons of potatoes and other vegetables were ruined in this manner, trains having to be sidetracked for days in order to clear lines of wrecks and then permit delayed military transports to pass.

BRAZIL'S NAVY TO PATROL ATLANTIC; TO SEIZE VESSELS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Rio Janeiro, May 25.—According to the Jornal do Commercio, it was decided at a meeting of the parliamentary and diplomatic commissions, called yesterday by the foreign minister, to adopt the principle of revocation of Brazil's neutrality in the war between the United States and Germany, and to police the south Atlantic with the Brazilian fleet.

A bill providing for revocation of the decree of neutrality will be presented to the chamber tomorrow. It is stated in official circles that parliament will order the confiscation of all German ships in Brazilian ports as soon as the official report of the inquiry into the torpedoing of the Brazilian steamer Tijuca, made at Bréaux, is received.

MILITARY FACTS PROHIBITED IN A NEW AMENDMENT

House Committee Will Offer Modified News Censorship Section

SEEK TO COMPLY WITH PRES. WILSON'S REQUEST

Gives President Authority to Define Character of Information

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 25.—Conferees on the espionage bill have drawn a so-called modified newspaper censorship section which will be brought before congress with the influence of the administration for inclusion in the pending bill. It must be accepted by both houses to become part of the bill.

The wording of the new section confines prohibited publication exclusively to military information and retains the provision that a jury shall decide whether published information is useful to the enemy. It is considered a much more liberal section than others previously proposed by the administration.

The conferees also agreed on the senate amendment to empower the president to declare export embargoes. It is designed to prevent shipments of supplies to Germany through neutrals. The agreements will be formally presented tomorrow.

The text of the section as now presented to Congress, follows:

"When the United States is at war, the publishing wilfully of information with respect to the movement, numbers, equipment, description or disposition of any of the armed forces of the United States; or naval or military operations or with respect to any of the works intended for the fortification or defense of any place, which information is or may be useful to the enemy is hereby prohibited, and the president may from time to time by proclamation declare the character of such above described information which is or may be useful to the enemy, and in any prosecution hereunder the jury trying the cause shall determine not only whether the defendant did willfully publish such information, as set out in the indictment, but also whether such information was of such character as was or might have been useful to the enemy, providing that nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict any discussion, comment, or criticism of the acts or policies of the government or its representatives or the publication of the same."

PRESIDENT NAMES THOSE EXCUSED FROM REGISTERING

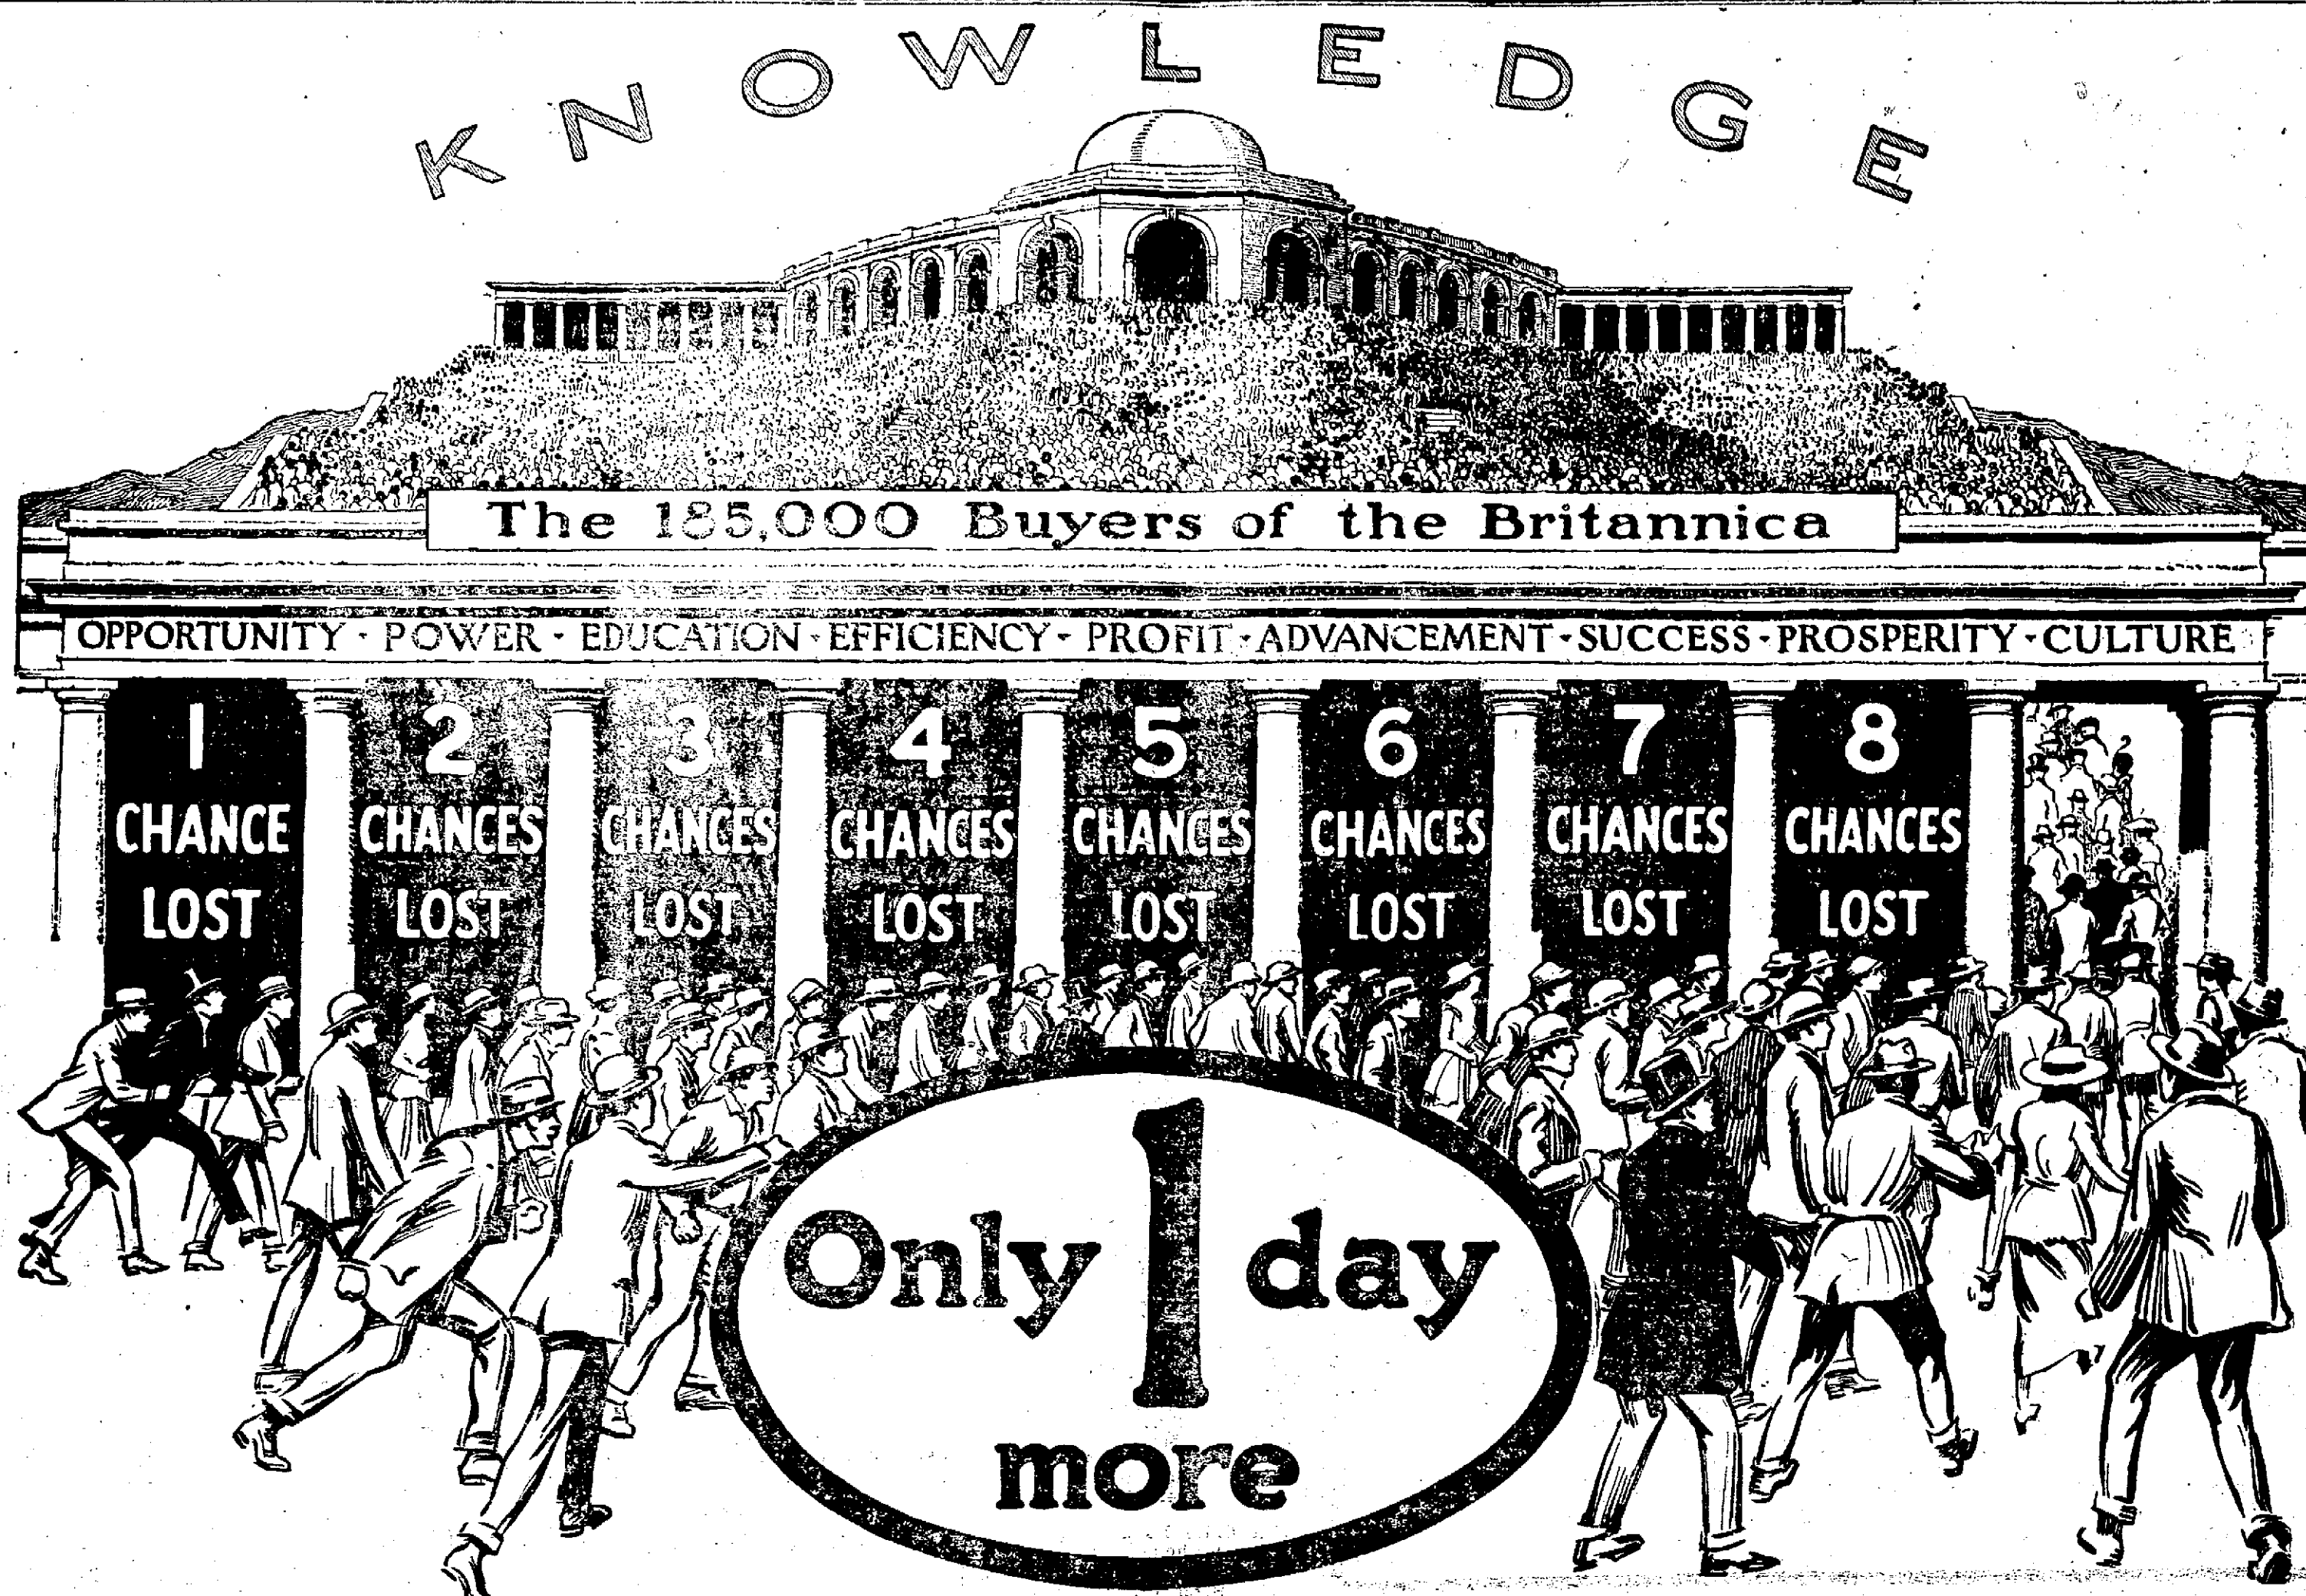

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 25.—Members of any duly organized and recognized force, military or naval, subject under other laws of the United States to be called, or drafted in the military or naval service, are not required to register June 5, under the selective service. In telegrams to governors of all states today, Governor Marshall General Crowder said:

"The President holds that the selective service act of May 18 and proclamation and registration regulations of the same date, do not require registration of any duly organized force, military or naval, subject under other laws of the United States to be called or drafted in the military or naval service of the United States, and in order that this construction may be made plain, he directs that sections 4 and 61 of the registration regulations of May 18 be construed as follows:

"The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers reserve corp, the enlisted reserve corp, the National Guard and National Guard reserve, recognized by the military bureau of the war department, the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard, and the naval militia, the naval reserve force and marine corps reserve and the national naval volunteers, recognized by the navy department."

LAKE STEAMERS ASHORE.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 25.—Two steamers have gone ashore as a result of terrific storms on Lake Superior. The Carrie is lodged on Iroquois Point and the Argo on the Canadian shore just above Point Aux Pains. The Barlow has been released from Time Island. Down bound steamers report that a gale and snow storm makes it impossible to see 50 feet in any direction on this lake.

A NEW VOLUME ABOUT THE WAR

The publishers of The Encyclopaedia Britannica announce that they have made arrangements for the issue, as soon after the end of the war as possible, of a new volume, containing a full and authoritative history of the war.

The new volume will be written by scholars and experts of the same high character as those who wrote for the Britannica itself, and by many of its own contributors. It will be absolutely impartial, excluding all partisan feeling and prejudice. It will contain

1. A judicial account of the real causes of the war, the progress of the struggle, and the results all over the world; with maps, as necessary, to show changes in boundaries.
2. The lives of the new leaders, whether civil, military or naval, in the belligerent countries.
3. The results of the war outside the sphere of fighting, the progress of surgery, the prevention of contagious disease, the new scientific discoveries, etc.

The new volume will bridge the gap between the days of peace before and after the war. It will be printed and bound to match the Britannica and the publishers guarantee that no matter how difficult and costly the supplementary volume may be from the editorial point of view, the price of it to all who purchase the Britannica during the present sale will not be more than that of a corresponding volume of the Britannica.

H. A. Norton President.

The time has come when you must decide and order. That is the whole story.

Today there is no use in telling you what the Britannica is, how valuable it will be to you in your work, what an advantage it will give you and your family to own it. You know now whether you want it or not. There is only one thing left for you to consider—will you order or not?

Unless you order NOW you will NEVER be able to buy the Britannica printed on genuine India paper. Because there is no more India paper for printing the Britannica. And no more can be made—war makes it impossible to import the flax and hemp for making India paper.

If you KNOW you want the Britannica, sign the "Reserve" Order Form in the corner of this announcement, attach a dollar bill to it and mail it just as quickly as you can.

If you are almost sure you need the Britannica, but want to be positive before you order, go to the store named here and ask to see the entire set. If the books convince you that the Britannica will be useful and helpful to you, leave your order in the store and make your first payment of $1.00. The entire 29 volumes will be sent you at once and you will have them to use and profit by while you pay for them.

This advertisement, in order to reach the newspapers of the extreme East, West and South had to be prepared and sent out ten days ago. At that time we estimated that the remaining sets of the "Handy Volume" Britannica—the last in the entire world—would take care of all orders mailed us on or before Saturday, May 26th. But orders have been increasing so rapidly that the last set may be gone before this.

BUT—Do not let this possibility delay you. Send your order TODAY! Every minute now is precious if you are really anxious to own and profit by the knowledge the Britannica will bring you.

OLD FOLKS FULL OF LIFE AND GINGER

THEY COME BACK STRONG.

All are very enthusiastic in their support of their new friend, PHOSPHATED IRON.

Most middle aged people fail to realize the importance of their future health and happiness by still trying to do a young man or woman's work, when the human machine is wearing out.

They are not aware of the changes in their bodies, are nervous, irritable, and the day's work looks like a whole of job. They are all in and played out before they start.

What one needs when they get to this stage and what they are always short of is Phosphates and Iron in their systems, it renews the red blood, puts new life and vigor in all the nerve centers so you can stand up and fight life's battles with confidence and a smile.

PHOSPHATED IRON has surprised the whole medical fraternity with its wonderful effective results. It is the one combination they can depend on to quickly supply the blood with iron, and strengthen and renew the entire nervous system by feeding the Phosphates directly to the nerve centers, thus rapidly building up and strengthening the whole body.

Iron and Phosphate are two elements everyone must have in their system to be healthy and strong. Every doctor will tell you this. PHOSPHATED IRON produces results, men and women, right in your own city, can testify PHOSPHATED IRON has given them a new grip on life, put energy and courage in their hearts so they could stand up and do their turn with the best of them.

Go to your druggist and get a package today, do not cheat yourself of this life-giver. You owe it to yourself and family. Special Notice: To insure your receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in Capsules Only. Do not allow dealers to substitute Tablets or Pills. ## MAN OF SEVENTY DECLINED TO WEAR STEEL JACKET FOR RHEUMATISM lives at 2 Sumner street, Saugus, Mass.; continued:

P. W. Taylor Compelled to Go Up Stairs On Hands and Knees—Now Able and Active

"They told me I would never do another day's work, but you see I have come back and believe I can handle a drill with the best of the boys. I was pretty bad, though, unable to feed myself or get my hands to my head. I had to crawl up stairs on my hands and knees, and every move I made would go through me like a knife. The pain was so severe that I lost weight rapidly, going down to 130 pounds."

"The pain from my ankles to my hips was unbearable. I had to move very carefully or I would bring on a paroxysm. Treatment failed to help me, although I was examined by physicians in a large Boston hospital."

"Var-ne-sis was recommended, and the reports of what this medicine had done for others gave me confidence that it would help me. I can't say that a few bottles cured me, but by persisting in the treatment I was able to return to work, and haven't had a sign or symptom of the disease for a year. My stomach improved shortly after taking Var-ne-sis, and I have regained my normal weight, which is 180 pounds."

Every day a sufferer puts off taking Var-ne-sis is just one day more of needless suffering.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS ARE SOUGHT BY A. A. A. MEMBERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, Ohio, May 25.—Uniform traffic laws, a federal road system, rules of "safety first" and methods of combatting car thievery will be the leading topics to claim the attention today in Cleveland of delegates to the annual session of the American Automobile Association.

Dr. H. M. Rowe, of Baltimore, Md., president of the association, and A. G. Batchelder, of Washington, D. C., chairman of the executive board, were among those who reached Cleveland yesterday. Automobileists from 20 states are present for the convention opening today.

Election of directors and reports of officers and committees was the first business of the convention this morning. Addresses and general discussion of motorists problems will fill the afternoon session. The convention will close with a banquet in the evening.

ARMY DISCIPLINE.
An officer in an army training camp remarks that one of the worst difficulties the army meets is the American boy's lack of training in obedience. Our young recruits are splendid fellows, as alert and clean as those of any race on earth. But American family discipline is loose. Plenty of orders are issued to the young folks, but in comparatively few families are these orders followed up and obedience insisted upon. The American boy listens amiably, and then goes and does as he pleases. We are a good-natured people and punishment goes against our grain. The American boy comes out of it self-reliant, but without much recognition of authority. It will go hard with boys developed in this atmosphere to submit to the strict regimen of army life.

Many of the regulations will seem arbitrary and without any basis in reason to the boys. They will want to stop and argue, and may land in the guardhouse for disrespect. Yet army life is built on the idea of instant obedience. Only thus can a group of men acquire the habit of action as a unit. The soldier who is allowed to use his own discretion in one thing will try to use it at the wrong time in the moment of conflict. He may then endanger his own life and those of others by his individual action.

It is the unity of a military force that gives it its striking power. The doing of things all in one second, the exact precision of action, makes a company of men formidable and multiplies many times the effect of individual action. To secure that unity the habit of instant obedience must be acquired until it becomes involuntary.

"Their's not to reason why" is the motto. The private soldier must assume that his officers have had a better training, and that they are in possession of wider information than he has, and that there is a good reason for every order. As a matter of fact discipline is a great safeguard. Every time insubordination is quelled and irregular action avoided, a body of men are enabled to protect themselves to the best advantage.

SERVICE OF VETERANS.

For many years on the Memorial Day anniversary May 30, the Veterans of the Civil War have been preaching patriotism. Many times their words attracted little attention. It usually proves very difficult to get a crowd out to Memorial Day exercises. The people are busy with their outings and sports and will not give up an hour for a patriotic purpose.

The Memorial Day orator frequently had to talk to audiences composed of the families and intimate friends of the veterans, and small boys drawn in by the beat of the drum.

The veterans have grown old and their numbers have diminished. They have still kept up their patriotic task in spite of the infirmities of age. They have trudged around to the public schools to give talks, hoping to stir patriotic feeling in young hearts. Sometimes the public may have seemed indifferent, yet all this work has had its effect. Recent events have proved that the old fire still burns. Our people have finally cast aside their ease and comfort, and have pledged themselves to a war that means infinite sacrifices. It could not have done this unless there had been a ceaseless effort to keep alive the American feeling.

This is a year when all exercises

That tomato plants should be set out in the evening, a tumblerful of water being given to each plant? The roots must not be placed at a greater depth than three inches. When the plants are about twelve inches high they should be secured to stakes, tying them loosely. Remove all branches leaving only the main stalk, and continue to remove all shoots until about the end of July. At that time two or three branches on each plant may be permitted to develop for a greater harvest. Any rank growth of vine may, at any time, be pinched back to two leaves above the flower. The fruit raised by this method will be clean and wholesome. It promotes healthier plants; yet a keen watch must be kept for green aphids.

A LOOK BACKWARD.
(Philadelphia Record.)
During the civil war we had the occasional suppression of newspapers, the most grievous offense being the publication of a fictitious proclamation by the President. And we had the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus on occasions. When volunteering was insufficient we had conscription. When a nation is at war it must employ means that are arbitrary and sometimes violent. But with the political habits and traditions of this country there is absolutely no danger that these emergency measures will become habitual, or will be resorted to on trivial occasions. The radical Republicans of 1864 nominated General Fremont for President, who explained that he accepted only under a stern sense of his duty to rescue the country from a calamity of another term of such a lawless and despotic President as Abraham Lincoln. But the extreme measures that Mr. Lincoln was sometimes obliged to take, or that were taken by his subordinates, never endangered popular government; they never became a habit with officials or with the people at large.

There's a tip for Everyman in Herbert C. Hoover's acceptance of the big job given him by President Wilson.

Running the food business of America—and perhaps of the whole world—is one of the biggest jobs in the whole war.

Yet Hoover takes that job only on condition that he be given no pay.

That was his only condition. He didn't quibble over how much work he would have to do. He didn't stickle for mahogany desks. He asked just one thing—no pay. And no pay for most of his staff.

That is about the finest spirit a man can show. It's the spirit of service—the spirit of how much can I give my country and my cause?

There's a tip for everyman and everywoman in Herbert Hoover's inspiring example.

Not all of us can do what Hoover has done because we have to work for a living, but all of us can have that spirit.

SOAKING MOTORISTS.
The bandits who run some of the big summer hotels and get fancy prices out of automobile tourists, are not the only element that makes money out of the motorists, who at the present prices of gasoline are not so wealthy as one might think.

Another game is the automobile accessory proposition. The market is full of all kinds of devices for making automobiles more comfortable, safer, or less costly to operate. A great many of these are fakes, but a lot of them are perfectly good technically and practically. It is merely a question of price.

Many of these devices are placed at prices that to the ordinary man look preposterous. They may contain only a little material that could be worth but a dollar or two, and they don't look complicated to put together. But big prices are asked, the principal asset of course, being patent rights.

Now it is perfectly legitimate for the owner of a patent to ask any price he can get. He may have an excellent proposition, and it might be worth the money if you could not find any substitute. He may not sell enough so that he is making money on it now. But he should remember one thing, that to popularize any article, it must be put at a moderate price. A large part of the automobile owners of the present time are people of very moderate incomes, and they will rub along in the old way rather than buy extras at fancy prices.

The automobile business has had the hot-air taken out of it, and the extraordinary profits of ten years ago have vanished. Now there is sharp competition, and the machines sell for what they are really worth. To establish any accessory on a permanently profitable basis, it must do the same.

NEXT WEEK WILL BE BABY WEEK

Many women 15 to 45 years of age die in the United States from conditions incident to maternity. Only one death rate was higher, that of tuberculosis. There is well organized effort to combat tuberculosis, yet little or nothing is done to reduce maternal mortality. Many communities pride themselves upon reducing their death rate in typhoid and diphtheria yet the rate of death from child bearing remains constant and has even increased during the years that figures have been kept. Seven thousand of these women died of what is known to the laity as child-bed fever. This is almost entirely preventable. It means in simple language that some one has not been clean, the doctor, the nurse or other attendants. The doctor and nurse may be ever so careful and if the patient does not co-operate with them, their work is all for naught. Hence, the mother who knows will not accept faulty service.

What are the underlying causes for such conditions?

The standard of obstetric practice is low. The people are allowed to believe that the hazards are unavoidable. Communities are still ignorant or indifferent to the numbers of lives lost. Physicians of the best minds find their work is more appreciated in other lines. The public will not recognize or pay for the long hours of labor, the night's rest lost, the interference with rest, the interference with other practice, the responsibility for two lives, and the actual technical skill needed. They are not willing to pay for such service in the same proportion as for surgical work, for instance, yet the practice of good obstetrics would do away with some of the need for surgery.

First of all, the women should recognize the importance of seeing their physicians early, and of placing themselves under their care. Many disturbances may be "nipped in the bud" if taken in time. It is only fair to the doctor to be able to anticipate complications, instead of waiting until both mother and babe are in grave danger. The next thing for an expectant mother to do is to rid her mind of all apprehensions in regard to her mental influence on the child. She can only contribute to the welfare of her child by properly feeding herself, by taking plenty of gentle exercise in the fresh air and by avoiding exposure to infectious diseases. So far as possible she should have her usual life.

The diet should be liberal and consist of meats, vegetables and fruits, cereals, milk and eggs, avoiding heavy indigestible foods, and stimulants. Many women reduce the food thinking to restrain the growth of the child. This is unwise, as an ill-nourished child makes for congenital weakness. The mother should be spared heavy work and her mind should be free from worry. The more quiet and peaceful the mothers life is the better for the baby. All infants have a better start and are much heavier at birth if the mother has had two or three of the last months for rest. This additional weight means extra strength to cope with the life which befalls babies, especially during the summer months. Insurance men say of all Americans, expectant mothers have the least care.

At the crucial hour, all the preparations should be as near surgical cleanliness as it is possible to make them. Often members of the family will object to all this "trouble" but they should understand that accidents are more likely to occur where such preparations are not made. The triumphs of surgery in the way of asepsis or cleanliness, ether and her sister chloroform should make safer the way and the path more smooth for the mother. The mother should remember that those last named agencies, though valuable used rightly, are dangerous if used at the wrong time. She should rely on the judgment of her physician and not on her own desires at the time. Be not misled by magazine articles written by laymen on the different fads for making the way easier. You may rest assured that the medical profession will welcome any safe treatment after it has been thoroughly tested.

How can the protection of mothers be accomplished?

The ideal care should be found in county maternity hospitals. Each county ought to have such an institution to which no other case would be admitted, such a hospital ought to have separate pavilions for abnormal cases. This maternity center should be available to mothers for information or advice about personal hygiene. An institution of this sort would in no wise be a charitable institution but would pay the community in dollars and cents, just as other protective measures do. New Zealand and Canada have both worked out a plan which includes all of these features. Shall we do less for our mothers in the United States?

Nature demands time to repair a mother's strength and so demands the rest in bed after baby's advent. It is sheer folly for the mother to try and get up or assume any duty before the fourteenth day. She is only building for future ill-health when she does otherwise. A little judicious neglect of household duties, if necessary, where help can not be obtained is better by far, than to rob a baby of its mother's care. For the question of maternal illness or death is linked very closely with that of the infant. It is plain that what ever lessons the mother's chance also lessons that of the baby for life and health.

Each death at child-birth is a serious loss to the country. The women who die from this cause are lost at the time of their greatest usefulness to the state and to their families. They give their lives in carrying out a function which must be regarded as the most important in the world. Improvement in conditions will only come through a general education of the public. If women would demand better care, physicians would provide it, medical colleges would furnish better training in obstetrics and communities will realize the vital importance of adequate care for mothers of all classes.

DADDY'S BEDTIME STORY
Young Storks Hated Teasing

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

JACK and Evelyn clapped for daddy to begin, so he started: "When Mother Stork tried to teach her youngsters how to fly one of them fopped back into his nest. 'I don't want to fly away to warm countries,' he said.

"Do you want us to leave you here to freeze to death this winter?" cried his mother. "Do you want to be left to the mercy of the bad boys? I will soon call them."

"No, no!" cried the little stork, hopping back up on to the ridge of the roof with his brothers and sisters.

"At the end of the third day they could all fly fairly well. Then they thought they could hover in the air too. And so they tried to hover. But flop! They soon found they had to move their wings.

"Just then the bad boys who always delighted in teasing the young storks came along in the street and began to sing a song that was about a cruel fate for all young storks.

"Shall we fly down and peck out their eyes?" asked the young storks of their mother.

"No, leave them alone," said she; "only pay attention to me. That is much more important. One, two, three—now we fly to the right. One, two, three—now we fly to the left. One, two, three—now we fly around the chimney. That was good. That last stroke of the wings was so well done and that flop was so pretty that I will allow you to go with me to the big swamp tomorrow. Several nice stork mothers so there with their children. Now, just let me see that my children are the nicest of all. Don't forget to carry your heads high. It gives you an air of importance."

"But can't we have our revenge on those bad boys?" asked the young storks.

"Let them scream as much as they like," answered their mother. "You are much finer than those children. Next winter, while they are almost freezing to death here, you will all be flying through the clouds to the land of the pyramids, where there is lovely mud to wade in and quantities of young frogs to catch. There won't be a green leaf or a sweet apple left here for those boys to get, but you will be able to fly about in the warm sunshine and sleep among beautiful lilies. How can you want such a common thing as revenge, while you are so much better off than those boys?"

"But we will have our revenge," whispered the young storks to each other. And they began to drill flying again with all their mights."

Luncheon was served, the colors being purple and white. The table was centered with a basket filled with a huge cluster of lilacs.

On Wednesday evening the Junior Class of the St. Louisville High school gave a reception in honor of the Seniors at the home of Miss Grace Ryan, about one-half mile south of St. Louisville. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the Senior class colors, purple and orange. After the guests, including the High school teachers, the Junior and Senior classes and their friends had all assembled, a short program was given by the Juniors as follows:

Song for the Seniors—Junior Class.
Prophecy for Senior Class—Ferne Fisher.
Last Will and Testament of Senior Class—Estella Sterrett.

Short Talk by Robert Warthen—President of Class.

Response by J. Franklin Locke for the Seniors.

A rousing yell in honor of the Seniors concluded the program after which games were played and refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. David Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Barwick and son Dale, Misses Mildred Hawke, Grace Ryan, Rose Parlet, Estella Sterrett, Adah Richerick, Mary Buchanan, Ferne Fisher, Eva Neibarger, Darlene Wilkin, Amber Wright and Lena Van Fleet. Messrs. Raymond Marriott, Searl Hamilton, Serle Spiker, J. Franklin Locke, Robert Warthen, John Walker, Albert Workman, Paul Van Winkle, Roy Parsons, Henry Buchanan and Geo. Sterrett.

Schonberg-Kohn.

The wedding of Miss Leah Elsie Kohn and Mr. Fred Schonberg was solemnized in the reception suite at the Desher Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The arrangements were marked by the greatest simplicity, the bridal couple having no attendants and only the members of the two families were in attendance.

The bride wore a traveling suit of blue with a black hat and her bouquet was a corsage arrangement of valley lilies and orchids. The marriage was solemnized by Rabbi Joseph S. Kornfeld.

Mr. and Mrs. Schonberg left on a wedding trip and on their return will be at home in Fairfield avenue after June 15.

Mr. Schonberg is associated in business here with his father, Mr. M. Schonberg.

Our Boys and Girls

Often the baby is fussy in his coach when put there to sleep. Have you as comfortable a foundation for your baby in his carriage as he has when he goes to sleep at night? Is the coach cushion free from wrinkles? After he has been made comfortable if he then cries and fusses, see if his clothes are wrinkled up under the arms or his feet uncovered or cold.

One cannot go far wrong when following the old rule of head, heel and feet warm, also do not jiggle him up and down, rock him to and fro, or shake the coach from side to side. How would you like some giant to pick you up and do all these things to you when you were feeling nauseated or a little upset? And really half the time all the baby wants is to be made warm and "comfy" and above all, to be let alone.

Milady's Boudoir

Drink Milk for Flesh.

The milk diet is the best flesh producer I know of. The day you commence the diet drink a couple of glasses of hot water upon arising, and fifteen minutes later eat half a dozen prunes which have soaked all night in a tumbler of warm water. Also drink the prune juice. Fifteen minutes after this take a glass and a half of milk and thereafter every hour until four or four-thirty in the afternoon. Eat your evening meal as usual, letting it consist of plainly cooked foods.

Do not drink the milk hurriedly, but remember it is just as much a food as beefsteak and requires the same amount of chewing. Swish the milk around in the mouth before swallowing as in this way it is almost entirely digested before it reaches the stomach. While on this diet be sure that the eliminative organs function properly.

Do not take the milk too cold, but let it stand until the chill is off and it is pleasant to take. Also do not take the milk too close to bedtime. Rather get up a little earlier in the morning so you can commence taking the milk earlier. The first week take three or three and one-half quarts of milk, the second week five quarts, and the third and succeeding weeks at least six quarts.

For the first week drink a glass and a half of milk every hour during the day. Continue to drink hot water and prunes as directed for the first week, but omit the evening meal this week and the weeks following. The third week take two glasses of milk every hour during the day and continue the hot water and prunes.

MEATY DISHES.

RAGOUT OF MUTTON.—One and one-half pounds of neck of mutton, cut into small pieces; one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one onion, one carrot, one-half can of peas, two cupfuls of hot water, one teaspoonful of salt, one bay leaf, sprig of parsley. Simmer slowly until tender and add peas last, when meat is done.

Meat Dish.—Take one pound of bottom round, run through meat grinder, also one-half pound of fat salt pork. Cook till done in the spider. Add salt. Now add one quart of boiling water. Mix in cornmeal to make a thick pudding, turn into tin and let cool. Cut in slices and fry in pork fat. Serve with fried potatoes.

Ham Timbales.—Cook two table-spoonfuls of flour in one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, add slowly one cupful of milk and season with a dash each of salt and cayenne. When smooth and thick add one cupful of finely chopped ham, one-half cupful of stale bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and one beaten egg. Turn into buttered timbale molds. Stand them in a pan of boiling water and bake about twenty-five minutes. Unmold and serve with white or drawn butter sauce.

Roast Spare Ribs and Potatoes.—Salt and pepper, dredge ribs with flour and put in small roaster or dripping pan in hot oven for fifteen minutes; add one cupful of hot water, shaved onion if desired. Cover closely and lower heat of oven. Parboil smooth white potatoes and put in with roast. Baste occasionally with liquid in pan, adding a little hot water at times. Fifteen minutes before serving uncover meat to brown. Remove potatoes to plate, baste with liquid from pan and a little melted butter and set on upper grate of oven to form a brown crust.

ARMY DISCIPLINE.
An officer in an army training camp remarks that one of the worst difficulties the army meets is the American boy's lack of training in obedience. Our young recruits are splendid fellows, as alert and clean as those of any race on earth. But American family discipline is loose. Plenty of orders are issued to the young folks, but in comparatively few families are these orders followed up and obedience insisted upon. The American boy listens amiably, and then goes and does as he pleases. We are a good-natured people and punishment goes against our grain. The American boy comes out of it self-reliant, but without much recognition of authority. It will go hard with boys developed in this atmosphere to submit to the strict regimen of army life.

Many of the regulations will seem arbitrary and without any basis in reason to the boys. They will want to stop and argue, and may land in the guardhouse for disrespect. Yet army life is built on the idea of instant obedience. Only thus can a group of men acquire the habit of action as a unit. The soldier who is allowed to use his own discretion in one thing will try to use it at the wrong time in the moment of conflict. He may then endanger his own life and those of others by his individual action.

It is the unity of a military force that gives it its striking power. The doing of things all in one second, the exact precision of action, makes a company of men formidable and multiplies many times the effect of individual action. To secure that unity the habit of instant obedience must be acquired until it becomes involuntary.

"There's not to reason why" is the motto that his private soldier must assume that his officers have had a better training, and that they are in possession of wider information than he has, and that there is a good reason for every order. As a matter of fact discipline is a great safeguard. Every time insubordination is quelled and irregular action avoided, a body of men are enabled to protect themselves to the best advantage.

SERVICE OF VETERANS.
For many years on the Memorial Day anniversary May 30, the Veterans of the Civil War have been preaching patriotism. Many times their words attracted little attention. It usually proves very difficult to get a crowd out to Memorial Day exercises. The people are busy with their outings and sports and will not give up an hour for a patriotic purpose.

The Memorial Day orator frequently had to talk to audiences composed of the families and intimate friends of the veterans, and small boys drawn in by the beat of the drum.

As the veterans have grown old and their numbers have diminished, they have still kept up their patriotic task in spite of the infirmities of age. They have trudged around to the public schools to give talks, hoping to stir patriotic feeling in young hearts. Sometimes the public may have seemed indifferent, yet all this work has had its effect. Recent exercises have proved that the old fire still burns. Our people have finally cast aside their care and comfort and have pledged themselves to a war that means infinite sacrifices. It could not have done this unless there had been a ceaseless effort to keep alive the American feeling.

This is a year when all exercises

SOAKING MOTORISTS.
The bandits who run some of the big summer hotels and get fancy prices out of automobile tourists, are not the only element that makes money out of the motorists, who at the present prices of gasoline are not so wealthy as one might think.

Another game is the automobile accessory proposition. The market is full of all kinds of devices for making automobiles more comfortable, safer, or less costly to operate. A great many of these are fakes, but a lot of them are perfectly good technically and practically. It is merely a question of price.

Many of these devices are placed at prices that to the ordinary man look preposterous. They may contain only a little material that could be worth but a dollar or two, and they don't look complicated to put together. But big prices are asked, the principal asset of course, being patent rights.

Now it is perfectly legitimate for the owner of a patent to ask any price he can get. He may have an excellent proposition, and it might be worth the money if you could not find any substitute. He may not sell enough so that he is making money on it now. But he should remember one thing, that to popularize any article, it must be put at a moderate price. A large part of the automobile owners of the present time are people of very moderate incomes, and they will rub along in the old way rather than buy extras at fancy prices.

The automobile business has had the hotel taken out of it, and the extraordinary profits of ten years ago have vanished. Now there is sharp competition, and the machines sell for what they are really worth. To establish any accessory on a permanently profitable basis, it must do the same.

Encouragement is felt that the Russian army will not take hold and do something, from the fact that some soldier let off a fire cracker, and three roman candles the other day.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR PATRIOTIC SERVICE

U.S. TREASURY

SUBSCRIBING TO THE WAR BONDS.

NEXT WEEK WILL BE BABY WEEK

Many women 15 to 45 years of age die in the United States from conditions incident to maternity. Only one death rate was higher, that of tuberculosis. There is well organized effort to combat tuberculosis, yet little or nothing is done to reduce maternal mortality. Many communities pride themselves upon reducing their death rate in typhoid and diphtheria yet the rate of death from child bearing remains constant and has even increased during the years that figures have been kept. Seven thousand of these women died of what is known to the laity as child-bed fever. This is almost entirely preventable. It means in simple language that some one has not been clean, the doctor, the nurse or other attendants. The doctor and nurse may be ever so careful and if the patient does not co-operate with them, their work is all for naught. Hence, the mother who knows will not accept faulty service.

What are the underlying causes for such conditions?

The standard of obstetric practice is low. The people are allowed to believe that the hazards are unavoidable. Communities are still ignorant or indifferent to the numbers of lives lost. Physicians of the best minds find their work is more appreciated in other lines. The public will not recognize or pay for the long hours of labor, the night's rest lost, the interference with other practice, the responsibility for two lives, and the actual technical skill needed. They are not willing to pay for such service in the same proportion as for surgical work, for instance, yet the practice of good obstetrics would do away with some of the need for surgery.

First of all, the women should recognize the importance of seeing their physicians early, and of placing themselves under their care. Many disturbances may be "nipped in the bud" if taken in time. It is only fair to the doctor to be able to anticipate complications, instead of waiting until both mother and babe are in grave danger. The next thing for an expectant mother to do is to regard her mind of all apprehensions on the child. She can only contribute to the welfare of her child by properly feeding herself, by taking plenty of gentle exercise in the fresh air and by avoiding exposure to infectious diseases. So far as possible she should have her usual life.

The diet should be liberal and consist of meats, vegetables and fruits, cereals, milk and eggs, avoiding heavy indigestible foods and stimulants. Many women reduce the food of the child. This is unwise, as an ill-nourished child makes for congenital weakness. The mother should be spared heavy work and her mind should be free from worry. The more quiet and peaceful the mothers life is the better for the baby. All infants have a better start and are much heavier at birth if the mother has had two or three of the last months for rest. This additional weight means extra strength to cope with the ills which befall babies, especially during the summer months. Insurance men say of all Americans, expectant mothers have the least care.

At the crucial hour, all the preparations should be as near surgical cleanliness as it is possible to make them. Often members of the family will object to all this "trouble" but they should understand that accidents are more likely to occur where such preparations are not made. The triumphs of surgery in the way of asepsis or cleanliness, ether and her sister chloroform should make safer the way and the path more smooth for the mother. The mother should remember that those last named agencies, though valuable used rightly, are dangerous if used at the wrong time. She should rely on the judgment of her physician and not on her own desires at the time. Be not misled by magazine articles written by laymen on the different fads for making the way easier. You may rest assured that the medical profession will welcome any safe treatment after it has been thoroughly tested.

How can the protection of mothers be accomplished?

The ideal care should be found in county maternity hospitals. Each county ought to have such an institution to which no other case would be admitted, such a hospital ought to have separate pavilions for abnormal cases. This maternity center should be available to mothers for information or advice about personal hygiene. An institution of this sort would in no wise be a charitable institution but would pay

Young Storks Hated Teasing
[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

JACK and Evelyn clapped for daddy to begin, so he started: "When Mother Stork tried to teach her youngsters how to fly one of them flopped back into his nest. 'I don't want to fly away to warm countries,' he said.

"'Do you want us to leave you here to freeze to death this winter?' cried his mother. 'Do you want to be left to the mercy of the bad boys? I will soon call them.'

"'No, no!' cried the little stork, hopping back up on to the ridge of the roof with his brothers and sisters.

"'At the end of the third day they could all fly fairly well. Then they thought they could hover in the air too. And so they tried to hover. But flop! They soon found they had to move their wings.

"'Just then the bad boys who always delighted in teasing the young storks came along in the street and began to sing a song that was about a cruel fate for all young storks.

"'Shall we fly down and peck out their eyes?' asked the young storks of their mother.

"'No, leave them alone,' said she: 'only pay attention to me. That is much more important. One, two, three—now we fly to the right. One, two, three—now we fly to the left. One, two, three—now we fly around the chimney. That was good. That last stroke of the wings was so well done and that flop was so pretty that I will allow you to go with me to the big swamp tomorrow. Several nice stork mothers go there with their children. Now, just let me see that my children are the nicest of all. Don't forget to carry your heads high. It gives you an air of importance.'

"'But can't we have our revenge on those bad boys?' asked the young storks.

"'Let them scream as much as they like,' answered their mother. 'You are much fiercer than those children. Next winter, while they are almost freezing to death here, you will all be flying through the clouds to the land of the pyramids, where there is lovely mud to wade in and quantities of young frogs to catch. There won't be a green leaf or a sweet apple left here for those boys to get, but you will be able to fly about in the warm sunshine and sleep among beautiful lilies. How can you want such a common thing as revenge, while you are so much better off than mere boys?'

"'But we will have our revenge,' whispered the young storks to each other. And they began to drill flying again with all their mights."

WHY THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR DOLLAR AND YOUR FULL SUPPORT

Washington, D. C., May 25.—In order to ascertain the immediate needs which the Red Cross should undertake to supply in France, Henry P. Davison, chairman of the war council of the Red Cross, called H. H. Harjes, of the firm of Morgan, Harjes & Company, Paris, to confer with French authorities and advise by cable.

Mr. Davison today made public a cable he had received from Mr. Harjes as follows:
"After fully conferring with minister and army medical authorities, I give below list of material most urgently needed by them. The needs are stated in the order of urgency."

"Transport—In addition to the French and Foreign Ambulance Transport Sections already now attached to the Army and which we hoped to replace, they urgently require fifty new motor ambulance sections of 23 Ford cars plus two White trucks each and the men to drive them.
"Five Sanitary (Red Cross) trains and the corresponding staff of doctors and nurses. The care for these trains would be turned over to us by the government and we would transform them in the manner desired within say two months at a total cost of approximately Frs. 500,000.

"200 Trucks to replace some of the complimentary surgical trailers, details of which could be sent later.
"300 two wheeled horse carriages for transport of wounded where motor ambulances could not be used. These carriages we could secure here for you at an approximate cost of Frs. 1,100 a piece.

"1,000 wheelbarrows with rubber tires for carrying stretchers in the clearing hospitals. These can be secured also at a cost of about Frs. 150 each.

"2,000 tents with double sides weighing about 200 kilos each for the sheltering of 20 to 30 wounded in clearing hospitals.

"1,000 tents of a larger model, also with double sides capable of holding 120 beds.

"40,000 to 100,000 cases of condensed milk.

"Several thousand oxygen bottles, specifications of which could be sent later.

"Drugs as follows:—10,000 kilos Quinine (Hydrochlorate of Sulphate); 30,000 kilos Cod Liver Oil; 1,000 kilos Gaiacol; 1,000 kilos Peruvian; 2,000 kilos Cade Oil; 2,000 kilos B. Balsam Naphtol; 3,000 kilos Salicylic Acid; 5,000 kilos Urethane (Ethyl Carbonate); 1,000 kilos Methylene Blue.

"200,000 blankets 2 meters, fifty by two.

"30,000 Woolen Pea Jackets.

"30,000 pairs of Woolen Trousers.

"400,000 pairs of Woolen Socks.

"10,000 Sanitary Slop Pails.

"1,000 Zinc Baths.

"5,000 pairs of Surgical India Rubber Gloves.

"15,000 meters of Linoleum.

"20,000 meters of American Oil-cloth.

"20,000 meters Water Proofed Cloth for protecting bedding.

"20,000 meters Water Proof Cloth for bandages.

"20,000 Coconut Mats.

"30,000 sets Enamelled, Plates, Mugs, Spoons and Forks.

"100 Typewriters.

"20,000 pairs of Leather Slippers.

"20,000 pairs of Flannel Waist-coats.

"Personnel:—They would like say five thousand nurses either male or female, but not less than one thousand males and if possible five thousand men to act as stretcher bearers and rough workers in the hospitals. "Also up to say ten complete staffs of doctors, assistants and nurses to be used as separate complete and distinct units to run clearing hospitals in Army zone or base hospitals in the interior."

Y. M. C. A. NEARS GOAL IN ITS CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS FOR WAR WORK

A total of $3503 was subscribed for the Y. M. C. A. work in army camps up to last evening. 165 subscriptions have been turned in. 23 These men expect to see other prospects and bring the amount up to $4,000 today. One team saw 49 people and secured 49 pledges amounting to $378. No cause has ever been presented to the Newark people that has met with so ready a response. Newark and Licking county will now have their just share in promoting a good social condition for the boys of the army camps. The report teams for yesterday is as follows:

DR. WAITE PAYS PENALTY FOR POISONING RELATIVE

Ossining, May 25.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was executed at Sing Sing prison last night for the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids.

The young dentist walked calmly and with a firm step from his cell to the death chamber. He faltered, however, as he neared the electric chair, but recovered quickly.

The chaplain declared that Waite seemed to look upon his approaching doom as a wonderful adventure.

ADVICE UPON WHAT TO EAT HOW MUCH TO EAT

(By Dr. I. H. Watson.)

The poisons in man are taken care of, if man will do his part. The liver and kidneys act as the sewage disposal plants which separate and throw off the poisonous accumulations, if given half a chance. But many of us should not eat more than once a day. Eat vegetables, and what may be called "roughage" to stimulate bowel action, such as baked potato with the hard skin, Graham, rye or whole wheat bread, onions, turnips, carrots, and sauerkraut. Stimulate the liver into a thorough housecleaning at least once a week, by taking a purely vegetable laxative made up and extracted from May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, into a Pleasant Pellet, first made by Dr. R. V. Pierce nearly fifty years ago, and sold by nearly every druggist in the country. To keep the kidneys clean drink plenty of water between meals; also, if you wish to "escape half the ills" which cause early deaths from kidney disease, affections of the heart, rheumatism and gout, drink a pint of hot water a half hour before meals. This with regular outdoor exercise, sensible food, and occasionally Anuric (double strength) before meals for a few weeks at a time, and there is no reason why a man or woman should not live to be a hundred. This Anuric stimulates the kidneys, causing them to throw out the poisonous uric acid which causes us to have pains in the back, lumbago, rheumatism or gout. Anuric can be obtained at almost all good drug stores. It always benefits and often cures the cause of kidney disease, as well as rheumatism and gout.

HOOVER ALREADY LAYING PLANS FOR CONTROL OF FOODS

Washington, May 25.—Offers to serve without compensation in the national food administration were received in great numbers at the administration offices opened by Herbert C. Hoover.

Mr. Hoover, who agreed to act as food administration on the condition that he and most of his aids serve without pay, will select the men who are to work with him without delay. Today he went over details at a conference with President Wilson.

The food administration will be divided into four branches. The first will comprise a number of separate executive bodies for registration of certain commodities.

The second branch will handle matters of co-operation with the states and will direct local distribution of foodstuffs and seek to prevent illegal practices that deal with questions of domestic economy and will put before the women a plan to conserve foods within the household.

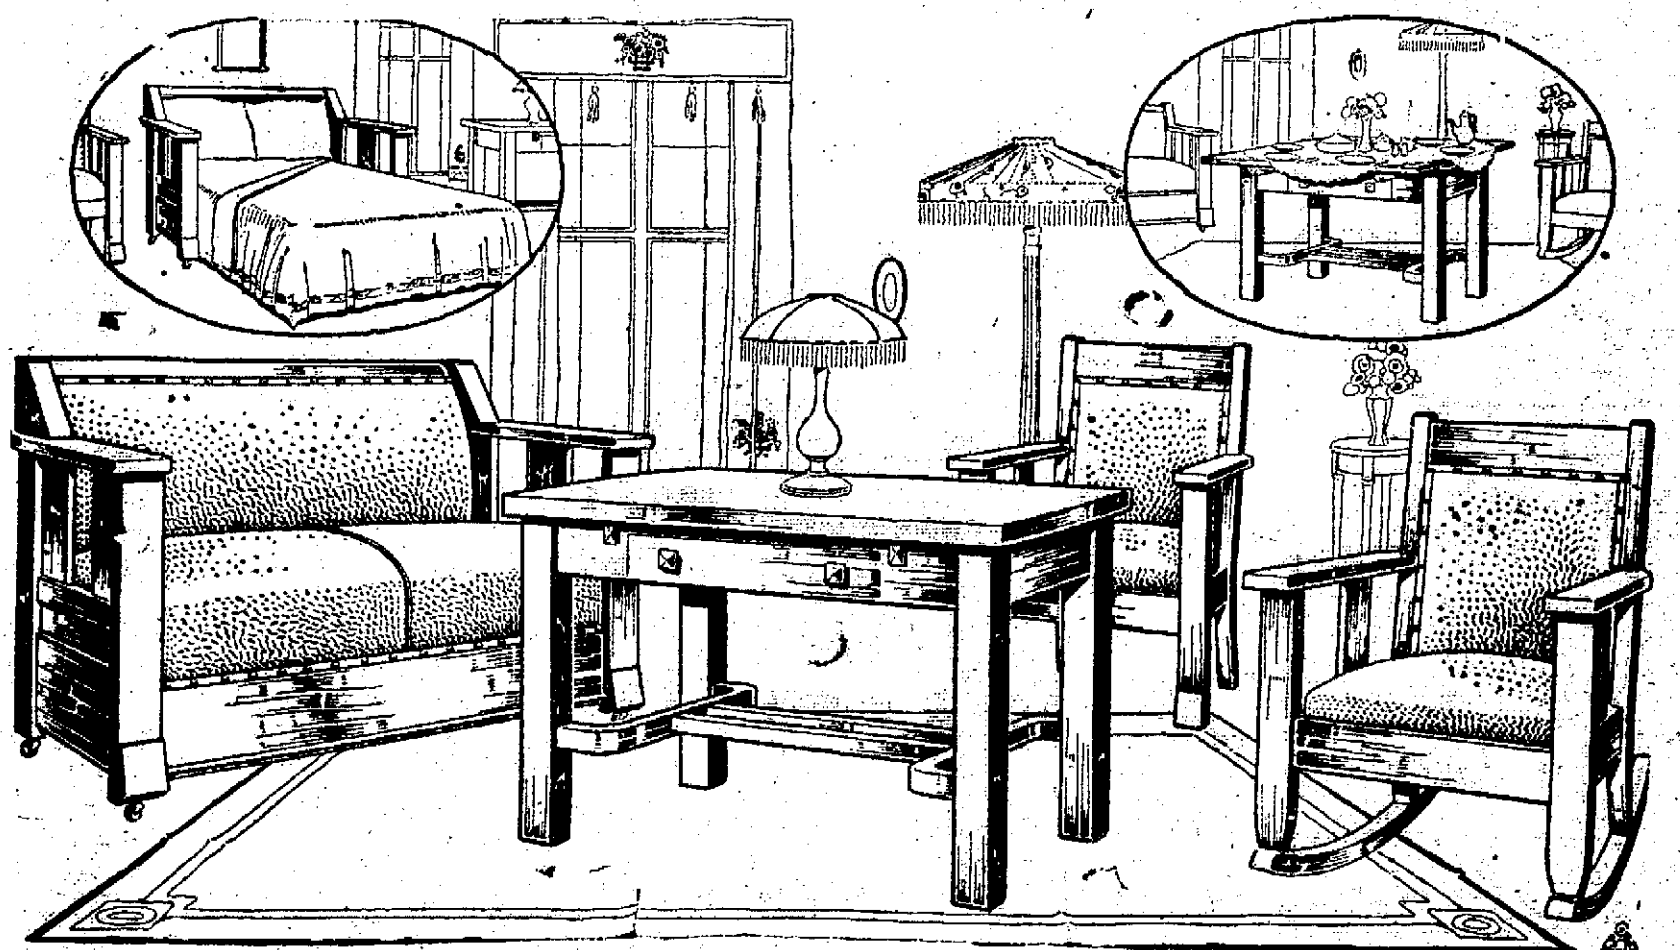

The fourth branch will have to do with food exports and probably will assist in purchasing for the allies and the European neutral countries, to eliminate competition and to force down prices.

A lame excuse explains many a halting gait.

Some of the Greatest Apartment Houses are Furnished With Them

In Chicago, in Detroit, and in other large cities, this suite has been found to meet a necessity that could be met only by paying exorbitant rentals heretofore. Many apartment houses include one of these suites in each apartment, as part of its equipment. The reason for its great popularity is evident. In four sturdy pieces of furniture are combined a living room, dining room, and a bed room. The necessity for two rooms which are in use but part of the time, is therefore eliminated.

Bed-Davenport Saves One Room

Opening with a few simple motions, this large davenport is instantly converted into a bed. Not a mere makeshift, but a comfortable, roomy, sanitary bed. And by day, it is a handsome settee, adding to your living room an inviting cheerfulness, a substantial comfort. It is upholstered in an unusually fine grade of imitation leather, withstanding hard usage.

Library-Dine Table Saves Another

The insert in the upper right-hand corner of the illustration shows the table as it appears when arranged for a meal. The top raises slightly, disclosing shelves on each side which when extended, make a full-sized dining table of your library table! Nothing complicated—the hidden mechanism is of the simplest sort.

An Artistic Living Room at All Times

Here is a dining room that may be enjoyed between meals, a bedroom that may be pleasantly occupied by day. Saving at least one-third of your rent, this suite will soon pay for itself. Come in and see this interesting arrangement, let us explain its usefulness more fully. Come see how sturdily furniture can be constructed when fine quartered oak is used.

The Happy Day Vacuum Washer

ROLLER BEARING—HIGH SPEED—WINS THE APPROVAL OF ALL $13.50

As It is the Only Washing Machine That Actually Runs As Easily When Full of Clothes As When Empty

THE VACUUM CUPS force the hot suds THROUGH the clothes, instead of twisting and pulling the clothes as in dolly type machines. You can do your washing in less time and have cleaner clothes with the Happy Day Vacuum. There is also less wear and tear on the clothes.

THE HAPPY DAY VACUUM WASHER is operated by a lever fitted with a handle and also a foot stirrup. This lever has a short stroke and can be operated as easily when seated as when standing. The gearing arrangement is simple and trouble proof. Being located underneath the tub there is no danger of the fingers or the clothing getting caught. Simplicity is the rule in the mechanical construction of this washer and there are exceptionally few moving parts.

MATINEE DRIVERS ENTERTAIN WITH ANNUAL DINNER

The annual meeting of the Newark Drivers' association was held at Assembly Hall last evening, quite a large number of those interested in the promotion of the fellowship among horsemen being present.

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 o'clock by Ora G. Warrington, president, who delivered a most little speech of welcome and outlined the purpose of the meeting. Secretary-treasurer Fred Kirkpatrick then read the minutes of the last meeting and made his report for the year, showing the association to be in a flourishing condition with a neat balance in the treasury.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in all the old officers being retained as follows: President, Ora G. Warrington, vice president, Ben B. Jones, secretary-treasurer, Fred Kirkpatrick, starter, Paul Wareham. President Warrington announced that he would appoint Wilfred Jones, Jacob Cartnell and J. N. Lake as members of the race committee.

Upon motion it was ordered that resolutions of respect to the late Frank B. Dudgeon, secretary of the Licking county fair, be drawn up by the officers and spread upon the minutes. It was decided to hold the first race matinee on Thursday, June 7, at Mountbuilders Park, and it is expected that the matinee this year will prove more popular than ever. Many horses have been promised and there will be keen rivalry in every event. Odds will be given on every race. The winners will be given four splendid brushes. To be drawn by horsemen on the first matinee day, only those having a horse at the track will be entitled to a chance. It was also decided to call the races promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

Luncheon was next announced and Caterer Wm. Gray served an excellent menu. The horsemen were hungry and they made things disappear at a rapid rate. Ben "Pop" Gear Jones was accused of eating all the limburger cheese while Dr. J. T. Lewis carried away several bunches of onions.

A number of the horsemen were called upon for remarks and Reese Jones, J. M. Farmer, J. N. Lake, Ben B. Jones, Paul Wareham and several others responded. The two Jones promised to make it lively when they clashed at the matinees.

The Newark Drivers' association is composed of men interested in standard bred horses, and there are a number in Licking county. They will have their fast steppers at the track and will train for the sport of sports this summer at the fair grounds. Matinees will be given every Thursday afternoon and no admission will be charged.

Following is a list of those present last evening: J. H. Watson, Eugene Montgomery, Arthur Ewers, G. F. Orr, A. C. Young, Russell Purbee, Hayes Hankinson, Harley Young, J. W. Chiles, Frank Chilcote, C. C. Mark, Harry Gilbert, O. C. Saffel, Rees Jones, O. G. Warrington, Joseph Hankinson, Daniel Stump, Desse Colville, R. L. Romic, Wilfred Jones, Frank Denesbeck, Paul Wareham, Ben B. Jones, J. T. Lewis, J. M. Farmer, Harry D. Hile, C. H. Egan, Biglow Melick, Mitchell Lake, N. E. Vanatta, J. S. Oxley, C. G. Sneaks, Ivan Rhodes, G. W. McNealy, M. B. Warrington, H. Legge, Frank Barnes, Wm. Hazlip, Fred Kirkpatrick, H. P. Burkham, Ed. Hammond, Fred Siegel, Frank Jones, Jos. Bell, Jacob Cartnell, Edw. Cartnell and J. C. Rector.

MOUND SCHOOL WINS FROM THE PAROCHIALS

The first game in the semi finals resulted in a victory for Mound school over the St. Francis de Sales school. The game was played at the Mound school baseball league, playing for the Haynes trophy cup. It was an interesting and clean game, and was watched by an enthusiastic crowd from both schools.

The score was made in the second inning when Patterson doubled and went to third on a passed ball, and scored on an infield out by Weiss. St. Francis had men on bases a number of times but could not master Kelly's pitching when hits meant runs. Fitzpatrick pitched an excellent game but his team was weakened by the loss of his batter-mate and their regular first baseman.

North Fourth street plays East Main Monday night.

Line ups were as follows:
Mound—Haynes, 2b; Kelley, p; Green, ss; Wilson, 1b; Patterson, 3b; Weiss, rf; Stewart, cf; Alexander, 2b; Deane, lf; St. Francis de Sales—Decker, lf; Dolan, cf; Fitzpatrick, p; Richner, 3b; Lane, 1b; O'Brien, rf; Lanning, c; Murphy, 2b; Gilbert, 2b.

Score by innings:
Mound.....0 1 0 0 0 0—1
St. Francis de Sales.....0 0 0 0 0—0

Amusements

ALHAMBRA.

Tonight and Tomorrow. That remnants of the old "feudal system" still exist in remote corners of the world is shown in "Heart's Desire," a Paramount Picture produced by Famous Players and starring Marie Doro at the Alhambra theatre tonight. A quaint little island off the coast of France is shown which is practically controlled by one family, the head of which is called the "Seigneur" or "Lord," and who can exact as much or as little rent from the peasant as he pleases. This is an example of some of the out-of-the-way places where this custom is still allowed to remain in practice, and the terrible effect of a hard master or owner is shown in the unhappiness of the peasants under the management of Henri le Rouge who forces them to increase their rent—or else sacrifice their property to him. The way this was changed and peace and happiness restored to the little community by the efforts of one girl, Fleurette, as played by Marie Doro, is shown with fascinating allurements in "Heart's Desire."

GEM.

Ever since Adam and Eve two-stepped in the Garden of Eden there has been handed down to subsequent generations the saying that "those who dance must pay the piper" or words to that effect. This thought

AT THE GEM.

appear as the star in "The Piper's Price," a domestic problem play, shedding new light upon the divorce question.

AUDITORIUM.

Theda Bara Today. To James W. Adams, a young University of Pennsylvania student, belongs the honor of having his first play he has ever written, "The Tiger Woman," accepted by William Fox, for that famous screen star Theda Bara. Mr. Adams is only 23 years old. Comparatively few writers have had such good fortune as Mr. Adams in having his first story accepted. Miss Bara comes back to the Auditorium today in "The Tiger Woman" and only through popular demand is she brought back for this return engagement. This is a Super De Luxe Fox feature and with an elaborate cast which includes besides Miss Bara, E. F. Roseman, Louis Dean, Emil De Varny, John Dillon, Glenn White, Mary Martin, Herbert Heyes, "Kittens" Reichert, Edward Holt, Florence Martin, George Clark, Kate Blanke and others. "Kittens Reichert" is well known as one of the clever Fox kidlets. As an extra added feature for two days, the funny two-reel comedy, "Chased Into Love," will be screened.

The Coburn Players.

Fresh from sensational triumphs in New York in such a modern classic as "The Yellow Jacket" and such a rather older one as Moliere's "Le Malade Imaginaire" the Coburn Players are coming to the Auditorium tomorrow afternoon and evening.

This is the company, which after several years of celebrated work, consisting of the production of classic plays at the leading colleges and universities and country clubs of the land, invaded New York City intending to stay but for a short series of matinees, but which popular approval compelled to remain five months. Mr. and Mrs. Coburn have lost none of their ideals in "the relentless city" and all the performances over which they preside and into which they enter are of the same high imagination and true appreciation which have characterized them since their beginning.

Seats are selling rapidly for both the matinee and evening shows on Saturday. This is the original company with Mr. and Mrs. Coburn and a selected cast. The New York Evening World, had the following to say of this company. "Anyone who loves the theatre for itself should be grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Coburn for preserving 'The Yellow Jacket.' It is a play that must forever reflect credit on the American stage."

"A Royal Romance." Miss Pearson together with Irving Cummings in "A Royal Romance," will be the big feature for Sunday Auditorium crowds. The extra added feature being Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in "A Reckless Romeo," the second of his own comedies, and the staging of the Masked Beauty, but unmasked. Hundreds have wondered who this beautiful voiced young lady was and those who attend Sunday will have a chance themselves of telling who she is.

"Womanhood." Defence and preparedness societies all over the country are taking an active interest in the successful promoting of "Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation," the spectacular preparedness picture which opens May 30th, at the Auditorium theatre.

The movement locally was started by members of the National Security League which has one hundred and sixty thousand members in the United States. It was at the suggestion of the New York headquarters of the league which used "Womanhood" as a practical demonstration of the unprepared state of the United States should a strong, militant foreign foe suddenly open hostilities.

When "Womanhood" had its remarkable run at the Broadway theatre in New York recently the members of the National Security League and other preparedness societies were so insistent in their purchase of tickets that it was practically impossible for persons not connected with the defence societies to view the picture.

In order that all of the members of the preparedness societies would have an opportunity to view the wonderful States it was at the suggestion of the officials of the leading organizations arranged with the management of the Broadway Theatre and Greater Vitaphone for a day to be set aside for the members of each society. On the day stipulated the organization members had the first call for seats after which the general public was supplied to the capacity of the theatre. Arrangements have not been completed as yet but efforts are being made to get the mayor and other prominent persons to make addresses after part four of the photoplay each evening.

MOTHER SAID TRY IT

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Copner after Doctor's Failed.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I want you to know the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was in such bad health from female troubles that I could hardly get off my bed. I had been doctoring for a long time and my mother said, 'I want you to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I did, and it has certainly made me a well woman. I am able to do my house work and am so happy as I never expected to go around the way I do again, and I want others to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

—Mrs. JOSIE COPNER, 1668 Harrison Ave., Fairmount, Cincinnati, Ohio.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicine ingredients of which are derived from choice roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

GAINS 9 POUNDS THROUGH TANLAC

"I Can Hardly Wait Till Meal Time Now," She Says.

WAS ONCE ALL RUN DOWN

"I can hardly wait until meal time comes now and I enjoy every mouthful of food too. I feel so well since taking Tanlac that I want all my friends to know about it. That is why I am making this statement," said Miss Hulda Foust, 819 Pierce avenue, Zanesville, an employee of the Getz shoe factory.

"My stomach and nerves were in bad condition. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep soundly. I got up completely worn out and tired. I couldn't eat breakfast. I gradually lost weight and ran down to ninety-five pounds. When dinner came I was weak and faint, but still I wasn't hungry. I didn't eat enough to keep up my strength. What little I did eat laid like a stone.

"But now, thanks to Tanlac, I eat heartily. Everything tastes good. I have gained nine pounds already."

Thousands recommend Tanlac for headaches, dizzy spells, indigestion, unsound sleep, backache, shortness of breath, weakness, nervousness, poor circulation and other symptoms arising from disordered stomach, kidney and liver. It is especially designed to aid digestion, promote healthy, refreshing sleep and make the muscles strong.

Tanlac may be obtained in Newark at Erman's Arcade Drug Store; in Hebron at Hebron Drug Co.; in Alexandria at C. M. Gilmore's; in Pataskala at J. H. Surine's; in Granville at W. F. Ullman's.

FIRST COMBATANTS UNDER U. S. COLORS REACH BATTLE LINE

(From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.)

Grand Headquarters of the French Army in France, May 24.—The first American combatant corps went to the front today under Captain E. I. Tinkham and Lieutenant Scully of Princeton. Captain Tinkham won the war cross at Verdun.

It was a proud moment when the first detachment of the American field service, consisting mainly of Cornell undergraduates departed for the Aisne battlefield. They were armed with carbines, attired in khaki uniforms and drove American five ton motor cars. As they left, the Stars and Stripes floating over the cantonment in an historic French forest, spread out in the breeze and other contingents cheered them on their way. Clarence Mackay presented the camp with the American flag which now flies besides the tricolor.

The correspondent of The Associated Press watched other American sections drilling in preparation for active participation in the fighting. Among them were detachments from Andover, Dartmouth, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Yale, Chicago, and Williams colleges, while a large body from Princeton was awaiting organization. Lieutenant Daly, captain of 1910, and Lieutenant William Taylor of New York, were busy putting one section into shape while Lieutenant Kennedy superintended another.

French officers and Lieutenant J. W. Ostheimer of Philadelphia, who won his rank in the French army in which he enlisted at the outbreak of the war, have been appointed instructors of the Americans at the central training school. Some sections are drilled according to the French method and others according to the American. All officers attached to the corps express the utmost satisfaction with the men, who display readiness to perform any task. They are all strong young men, many of them civil engineers, and they show an adaptability to meet any circumstances. Most of them intended to serve with the American ambulance, but selected the fighting corps after the United States decided to enter the war. They have already been undergoing some of the hardships of campaigning, sleeping in tents in the forest environment, but they know that this war is no parade and entails the hardest and most trying work day and night with many privations.

The military fashion of taking meals in France has been somewhat changed to meet the requirements of the Americans. Breakfast, which is scanty for the Frenchmen, has been augmented and the hours of other repasts have been modified. A French officer of high grade told the Associated Press correspondent that the arrival of the Americans was greatly appreciated and that he was confident that they would render an immense service to the allies.

TOWNSHIP AND CITY SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian church, all available seating capacity was filled by the great congregation assembled from all parts of the city and township and representing practically every religious denomination in Sunday school work. The fundamental purpose of this meeting was to create a greater enthusiasm between the city and township Sunday school and to make the joining link stronger.

The meeting was opened with a song service, under the leadership of Mrs. Chandler Tucker, whose ability as a leader is well known. The "Boosters" choir which filled the Sunday school room, delighted the audience with several well chosen selections. William C. Wilson who has charge of this choir requests more children to become members, since they will have occasion to be of service many times this winter. He set the date of June 5th as registration day for those who wish to sign up.

A. S. Mitchel, who presided as chairman gave a very interesting talk in regard to the meetings which will be held tonight and Saturday. Later he introduced A. R. Evans, whose subject was "The Relation Between City and Township Sunday Schools." Being prominent in this work, he has had the opportunity to see the actual need that the smaller Sunday schools in the township have for the support of the Newark organizations in that line. The speaker gave several illustrations where Sunday schools were working under great difficulties, in order to overcome the hardships that confront them. Mr. Evans pointed out that these organizations were a great chain and each linked with the other, all engaged in a great work. The average Sunday school attendance each week is about 20,000,000 people. This number is greater than some of the armies the speaker stated, but the Sunday school fight is not that of flesh and blood, but it is of the spirit. With dynamic force Mr. Evans attacked the liquor question and the relation the Sunday schools would have with that great campaign in the near future. Following this address Mr. Carroll, who is in Newark in regard to prohibition work, sang two songs, which were met with much applause.

A. R. Hackney, the well known West End Sunday school worker, gave a very interesting report regarding the State Bible Class convention, held in Lancaster in April. Mr. Hackney told of the great good that was being done by this organization and mentioned the fact that perhaps Newark could be favored with the convention here if they would try to get it.

The last speaker of the evening was Rev. Don D. Tullis, whose subject was "Sunday Schools and the Boy." Mr. Tullis emphasized the fact that a good teacher for these boys solved the whole solution of keeping them in the Sunday school. It takes a wholesome, spiritual understanding woman to bring religion before the boys in the right way. Every boy has a different disposition, and a good teacher will know how to approach them in ways that will appeal to them. If approached in such a way, the boy will become a great power in the community. As Christ when he spoke to the 5,000 people, multiplied the bread and fishes which were obtained from a lad, so he can take a boy with the poorest talents and magnify them to a great degree.

During the course of the evening, the superintendents of the Sunday schools elected the following people to fill vacant places in the city and township Sunday school organization: Superintendent of Boys, A. S. Stephan; Home department, Mrs. A. Swartz; Elementary department, Emily Hall.

People were urged to attend the meetings of the County Sunday schools held in the Central Church of Christ, Friday and Saturday. Many noted speakers will be presented to the Newark people at these meetings.

GERMAN SPY SAID TO HAVE ENTERED TRAINING CORPS

Washington, May 25.—Investigators of the department of justice are on the trail of an alleged German spy who is said to have joined the United States officers' reserve corps, in an attempt, it is believed, to insinuate himself into a vantage point in the army. Written information in the hands of the department purports to establish the suspect definitely as a German agent.

The man was the head of the German language department of an American college. He attracted attention recently by refusing to read to his classes President Wilson's war proclamation and by prominently displaying the kaiser's photograph in the classroom, according to information at the department. No statement as to whether he is now or has been at one of the training camps, could be obtained from any officials.

WOMEN PLAN TO AID COMMITTEE ENTERTAIN U. C. T.

A score of the wives and daughters of local United Commercial Travelers met Thursday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to organize for the entertainment of the ladies who will accompany their husbands to the state convention in Newark, June 7, 8 and 9. They organized by electing Mrs. George C. Vall, presiding officer of the woman's section.

The program of entertainment for the three days was gone over carefully. The committee pledged its best efforts to make the stay of the visitors pleasant and maintain Newark's reputation for hospitality. The women also will assist in providing homes for the accommodation of guests. They will meet again Friday afternoon, June 1, at 3 o'clock to appoint sub-committees and divide the work.

OHIO ONION MEN INDICTED; CLAIM PRICE MONOPOLY

Boston, May 25.—Eighty-eight corporations and individuals were indicted by the federal grand jury here yesterday for conspiring to monopolize interstate commerce in onions. Among those indicted were one Ohio corporation and 22 individuals living in Ohio.

The Horr-Warner Company, Wellington, was the Ohio corporation named in the indictments, which also named 10 other corporations in different sections of the United States.

Other Ohioans indicted are: J. A. Jones and Willis W. Bowers of the firm of Jones & Bowers, Kenton; Carl Price and France Price of the firm of Carl Price & Bros., Kenton; George Stambaugh, Allen Edwards and W. E. Bartholomew, McGuffey; J. B. Seymour, Kenton; J. B. Stambaugh, Ada; A. Moore, Kenton; F. B. Johnson and L. W. Wermerman, Hudson; T. Reed Dunlap, Alger; W. G. McGuffey, McGuffey; W. S. Snyder, Kenton; Frank H. McGuffey, Conover; A. M. Benjamin, Madison; George Sheldon, McGuffey; A. W. Tank, Bono; Carl M. Jordan, Creston; Henry Reno, Toledo, and John A. Newcomer and Isaac Houston of Newcomer & Houston, Carey.

The indictments, which were returned as a result of a nation-wide inquiry into the cost of food conducted last winter allege that the defendants divided the territory of the country between them for the purpose of eliminating competition; that maximum prices were fixed for the purchase of onions, and that the supply was hoarded in order to increase prices.

Mr. Anderson estimated that the annual crop of onions amounted to 200,000,000 pounds, three-fourths of which he said was alleged to have been controlled by the defendants.

In a statement issued last night U. S. Attorney Anderson said:

"For the 1916 crop the producers probably received less than 2 cents per pound. In midwinter many of these onions were sold to retailers and through them to the consumers at 10 to 15 cents a pound. It is claimed by the government that this tremendous margin between the price accruing to the producer and the price paid by the consumer was largely due to the illegal control of the trade exercised by this association."

BALTO. & OHIO TRAIN WRECKED NEAR ATHENS

Athens, O., May 25.—A score of persons were injured, three seriously, when a westbound Baltimore and Ohio passenger train was wrecked on a bridge at Mineral, west of here yesterday. Four coaches and the engine left the tracks while the train was running 50 miles an hour.

The day coach was thrown off the bridge into the creek. Conductor W. P. Carey of Cincinnati, Postal Clerk Walter S. Smith of Williamsburg and A. P. Johnstone of Ottumwa, Ia., were seriously injured. Steel constructed coaches doubtlessly saved many others from serious injury.

25 Years Ago

From the Advocate May 25, 1892.
A large charity party was last night by the members of the Young Ladies Mission, of the Second Presbyterian Church at the home of E. G. Smyth.
Col. Ed Barrett, Capt W. H. Darlington, Joseph Avery and Frank Chaffin will go to Lancaster Friday, to muster in a new encampment of the Union Veteran Legion.
The Misses Reelhorn of near Kirkersville are the guests of the family of S. G. Hamilton.
Mrs. Frank Williams of Canton, Ohio, is the guest of her brother, H. Diehl of West Main street.
A very beautiful home wedding of this season was that of Miss May Wedel and Mr. Frank Wedel, performed last evening by Rev. C. W. Syferd.

15 YEARS AGO TODAY.

From the Advocate May 25, 1902.
Mrs. Frank Louis Beckel, and her mother Mrs. M. Graham, have given invitations for a reception at the home of Mrs. Beckel in Granville on Thursday, May twenty ninth.
D. J. Jones, the Truant Officer, was thrown from his buggy Sunday evening and killed by his horse but not seriously hurt.
Grove Montgomery has been absent from school for some time on account of a sprained ankle.
Sergeant Charles Gutzahr is in charge of the recruiting station here.
Edward Braddock, one of the advance agents of the great John Robinson show spent Sunday at his home in this city.
Little Irene, the daughter of Mr. S. H. Beadle, is sick at the home of her uncle Mr. Thomas Duffin.
The funeral of Dr. David Williams took place Monday morning at his late home in Columbus.
Mrs. J. R. Haines and daughter Florence left Saturday for Pittsburgh.

The World War a Year Ago Today—May 25.

Germans made gains at Haudremont quarry, Verdun.
King George signed the British compulsory military service bill, applicable to all able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and forty-one; 3,041,000 had voluntarily enlisted since the war began.

Two Years Ago Today.

British battleship Triumph sank in the Dardanelles by German U-54.

PLAYER LIMIT EXCHANGED.

Chicago, May 25.—The player limit in the National and American leagues will not be changed for the present at first on a point of contention due to the war. The question was discussed at the two days' meeting of the national commission which adjourned last night and all three members expressed opposition to a proposal to reduce the number of players carried by a club.

Boys of '61 Were Real Boys

SURPRISE is often expressed that there are so many veterans of the civil war still living. The fact is that the war was fought, at least on the northern side, by boys. Of the 2,159,798 enlisted there were only 46,626 who were over twenty-five years old. The official figures of the age at enlistment in the civil war were read in the house of representatives by Joseph G. Cannon, and they are as follows:

Those 10 years and under.....	25
Those 11 years and under.....	38
Those 12 years and under.....	225
Those 13 years and under.....	300
Those 14 years and under.....	1,523
Those 15 years and under.....	104,867
Those 16 years and under.....	231,051
Those 17 years and under.....	84,891
Those 18 years and under.....	1,151,438
Those 21 years and under (these two classes make the total number of enlistments).....	2,159,798
Those 22 years and over (these two classes make the total number of enlistments).....	618,511
Those 25 years and over.....	46,626

It will be noticed from this statement that the greatest number of enlistments were of boys eighteen and under. In a great number of cases these boys became officers before they were twenty, some of them even reaching the rank of captain. The methods of war have so changed that in future armies there must be a far greater portion of mature men. There must be a large number who can handle the intricate, complex and death dealing machinery and engines of destruction.

[Lieutenant William B. Cushing, the hero of the torpedoing of the Albatross, was only eighteen years and five months' old when the civil war began and twenty-two when he performed his famous feat.]

But as far as the civil war was concerned the fighting was done by boys, and the phrase "boys of '61" is a literal expression of the truth and not metaphorical. There are still 400,000 of them alive.

Memorial Day Sentiment

MONUMENTS perish, and their dust is blown upon the "broad bosomed air," but sentiment lives forever. The magnificent material of Greece tumbled away, but her fancies are alive. Strife, battle, bitterness, are forgotten; love is eternal, and glory lies in the grave of the valiant.

Yesterday the country was a great commercial giant, conquering new territory. Today it is a sentiment, scattering flowers upon the graves of its heroes.

On the sidewalk, viewing the Memorial day parade, stands an old woman, dim eyed and tottering. Her young heart flutters with the thrill of the scene, and her poor old mind gropes back to a day years ago, when she saw her son, glowing, handsome, proud, marching beneath that same flag. One night a neighbor came and, stammering, told her that he had fallen with the brave, and to her the world was blotted out. She heard the shout of victory as her heart beat low, and, sorrowing, dead years fell upon her, and to God she cried for mercy and for consolation. Today she places a flower upon the grave of a stranger, the son of some other poor old woman, and in her heart she says:

"It was well. Our loved ones saved the country."

No, of Memorial day you can say nothing new. But of eternal truth and beauty should we expect that anything new should be said? We hear the music, we see the flowers, we breathe the perfume—we know that the country is immortal—Orie Read.

Many a man who jumps at conclusions lands from the frying pan into the fire.

JOLLY AND WITTY WAS JOE CHOATE

As Noted For His Jokes as For Great Legal Lore.

A FEW RANDOM STORIES

Delicate and Beautiful Tributes Paid to His Wife—How He Characterized Richard Croker, the Tammany Boss. Some of His Famous Witticisms and Other Anecdotes of His Life.

With the death of Joseph H. Choate, noted lawyer and former ambassador to England, the world is distinctly poorer. As an after dinner speaker he ranked among the first in the land, and his fame extended beyond the seas.

His name had been mentioned for a congressional nomination while he was still in his thirties; but, although an active participant in political as well as philanthropic movements in these first years of his success, he did not seek office. He had but one ambition, which he put into words himself, an ambition which in time he was to achieve.

"I'd rather be the leading advocate of the American bar," he would say, "than be president of the United States."

"And what would you want to be if you ceased to be Joseph H. Choate?" some one asked him whimsically on a much later occasion.

"I should want to be," he answered quickly, with a bow and a smile to his wife, "Mrs. Choate's second husband."

Choate's Advice.

Joe Choate had a reserve fund of the unexpected. Some American dishes were served up at a breakfast party in England, one being ham and eggs. A young lady at the ambassador's right was ignorant of the slippery ways of fried eggs on a dish, so she accidentally spilled the contents of her plate.

"Oh, Mr. Choate," she exclaimed, "I don't know what to do, for I've dropped an egg on the floor!" And Choate replied:

"If I were you I'd cackle."

A Famous Witticism.

One of Choate's witticisms which has been most frequently repeated was uttered in the Fearnot-Censola libel case, which turned upon the authenticity of some alleged antique statues. It was charged, among other things, that a certain figure of Venus had been worked over and made into a Hope. A witness had sworn that the statue as it then appeared was different from the way it looked when first taken out of the packing box.

"Lost flesh in the hot weather, I suppose?" suggested Choate.

"My learned brother is so fond of making jests that he overlooks some of the serious points in the testimony," interposed the counsel for the other side. "Now, if my learned brother—" "Pray don't drag me in all the time," interrupted Choate rather tartly. "I'm not on trial here. Please go on with the business in hand and leave me out."

"Leave my learned brother out!" exclaimed the opposing counsel, with mock alarm. "Why, we might as well leave out Venus herself!"

"Oh, very well," returned Choate; "leave me out with Venus and I won't object!"

Choate and Croker.

His opinion of Richard Croker, the Tammany boss, was freely expressed by Mr. Choate in addresses in the New York state campaign of 1898. At a meeting in Chickering hall, in replying to an attack by Croker, he said, "I must say I regard it as the highest compliment for any respectable citizen to be abused by him." At the same meeting he said:

"Well, this audience looks to me like a good, old fashioned audience who remember things they have read in the Bible. Croker's speech and why he spoke recall to my mind the familiar story of Balaam's ass. And in two or three points Mr. Croker reminds us of that very celebrated beast of burden. In the first place, until the ass spoke nobody in the world imagined what a perfect ass he was. If he had not spoken he would have passed into history as an average, ordinary, silent ass who carried Balaam on his way, but when he spoke he was distinguished over all other asses in the land."

As a Speaker.

Mr. Choate always was droll, seemingly genial and having a very pleasant time.

His first address that really gave him the nation as an audience was the one he made at the opening of the Ladies' Sanitary fair back in early civil war days. But when talking to a group of Radcliffe alumnae in the Hotel Manhattan almost thirty-six years later he gave, with his usual graceful charm and gallantry, his own idea of what he considered his best speech. "I made it to an audience consisting of one young lady some forty years ago," he said, with a glance and bow toward Mrs. Choate, who sat across the table from him at the Radcliffe girls' luncheon. "That was the shortest and, I am quite sure, altogether the most difficult and at the same time the most successful speech in my life."

That "audience consisting of one young lady" was the then Miss Caroline Dutcher Sterling, a young lady born at Cleveland, O., who subsequently became Mrs. Choate.

The Doctor—"How's business?" The Undertaker—"Dead. I'm simply rushed to death."

General Grant In War Time

I RECEIVED a number of letters from General Grant during the war," said the general's cousin, Mrs. Louisa Boggs, several years ago. "They discussed in a loving way his wife, children and his friends in St. Louis. He never went into detail concerning the great work in which he was engaged. For all an outsider might know he was quietly working out some ordinary business matter. In one of his letters to me he closed by remarking that he had a 'big contract on hand,' and was looking forward with pleasure to the family reunion when he got through. The 'big contract' was the annihilation of Lee's army. The letter was written during the terrible campaign in the Wilderness.

"General Grant's letters were in harmony with his social life. When he was home on a visit he rarely discussed the tremendous problems that were confronting him. He took the greatest interest in the children, and would devote most of his time to discussing with them how they were getting along in school and other matters connected with their progress. Of course, there were during these times great numbers of visitors constantly calling to see him, but I rather think these visits bored him. Not far from our house was a large, rather imposing three-story building. Most people who came out in search of General Grant would select that at a venture, because it was much larger than our house. The lady, a Mrs. Taylor, over there told me one day that she had a good mind to put up a sign something like this:

"General Grant doesn't stop here."

"General Grant never told any of us what he hoped to do, not even when his largest campaigns were under way. We gathered our war news from the papers, not from what he told us. I do not recall that he was ever visited while in our house at St. Louis by a news reporter requesting an interview. He may have talked with some newspaper men, but doubtless they got very little from him if he did. He was one of the closest men concerning the war that you could imagine. You mustn't get an idea that General Grant was morose in those days. He was kind and courteous to all, and enjoyed social intercourse with friends in his quiet way. I never heard him use an oath or slangy expression, nor have I heard men who knew him to say he did.

"If there was any particular subject upon which General Grant could have been said to be deeply interested, aside from his military career, it was his family. He was the most devoted man I ever met, and as loyal to them as he was to his country."

The Veterans

Every year they're marching slower,

Every year they're stooping lower,

Every year the lilting music stirs the hearts of older men;

Every year the flags above them seem to bend and bless and love them

As if grieving for the future when they'll never march again!

Every year that day draws nearer,

Every year the truth is clearer

That the men who saved the nation from the severance of the sword

Soon must pass away forever

From the scene of their endeavor,

Soon must answer to the roll call of the angel of the Lord.

Every year with dwindling number,

Loyal still to those that slumber,

Forth they march to where already many have found peace at last,

And they place the fairest blossoms

O'er the silent mould'ring bosoms

Of the valiant friends and comrades of the battles of the past.

Every year grow dimmer, duller

Tattered flag and faded color;

Every year the hands that bear them find a harder task to do,

And the eyes that only brightened

When the blaze of battle lightened,

Like the tattered flags they follow,

are grown dim and faded too.

Every year we see them massing,

Every year we watch them passing.

Scarcely pausing in our hurry after pleasure, after gain,

But the battle flags above them seem to bend and bless and love them,

And through all the lilting music sounds an undertone of pain!

--Denis A. McCarthy in New York Sun.

WRIGHT GETS $561 FOR LOSS OF THUMB

Columbus, May 25.—The State Industrial Commission yesterday granted an award to Earl Wright of 441 West Church street, Newark, amounting to $561.34, for an injury, loss of right thumb, recently sustained by him while in the employ of the Wehrle company. Medical expenses were also paid from the state insurance fund. The award of the commission was granted under the provisions of the Ohio Workmen's Compensation Law.

KNOX COUNTY WOMAN HELD IN KOREA AS SPY

Mt. Vernon, May 25.—Miss Margaret I. Hess of Danville this county, is being detained in Korea as a native of Germany and suspected of being a spy. She has been engaged as a missionary under the Northeast Ohio Methodist Episcopal conference during the last four years.

C. M. Rice, who has been her guardian, yesterday cabled affidavit that Miss Hess was born here and that her parents, now dead, were American born. Advice received here urged haste, although it is understood she had not been taken into custody.

DISCIPLES ELECT NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Bellefontaine, May 25.—The Ohio Disciples of Christ closed their annual convention in the Church of Christ here yesterday, electing the following officers: President, Rev. C. R. Oakley, Portsmouth; first vice president, Rev. Frank Butchart, Cleveland; second vice president, J. A. Long, Mt. Vernon; corresponding secretary, C. W. Flewelling, Ashabula. They will meet next year at Warren.

AMERICANS NOT HELD.

Berlin, May 25.—The foreign office yesterday emphatically denied assertions alleged to have emanated in the United States that Germany is intentionally holding Americans desirous of leaving the country. Their departure, it was explained, was delayed solely by official routine, which, in view of existing circumstances, was naturally slow of motion.

PERSHING SEES PRESIDENT.

Washington, May 25.—President Wilson conferred yesterday with Major General J. J. Pershing, who is to command the first American expeditionary force to France. The conference was short and neither General Pershing nor Secretary Baker, who introduced him to the President, would discuss it.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homey freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles. Advertisement.

Will Prohibition Be Adopted As a War-Measure?

An Investigation of the Results in Nineteen "Dry" States

Nation-wide prohibition as a war measure would affect everybody in the United States. The good results of such a policy have been praised continuously in the press of the belligerent countries, and are cited in America by prohibition advocates to explain the great strides of the "dry" movement in the United States during the past two years.

To get a true conception of what citizens of the "dry" States have experienced under prohibition law, THE LITERARY DIGEST made a strictly impartial inquiry in all the States that have had prohibition laws of one kind or another in operation for not less than one year. Two questions were asked of the representatives of public opinion in these commonwealths—the editors of the press: First: Whether In Their State Prohibition Is a Success? Second: Whether They Would Recommend It to Other States? From nineteen States, 157 replies have been received.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for May 26th, the results of this nation-wide canvass is shown. This is the first non-partizan investigation of the kind ever made. The result is most illuminating, and will interest every one from brewers to bishops.

How the Motor-Truck Contributes to Patriotic Efficiency

24,000,000 horses consume the food produced on 120 million acres of land—land that is capable of supporting 40,000,000 human beings. The great war will be won or lost by our food supply and Harry Wilkin Perry, in this number of THE DIGEST, shows how the use of the motor-truck will divert an enormous food-supply into channels where it will be most effective.

THE LITERARY DIGEST appeals to, and is carefully read by, manufacturers, business executives, progressive retailers, everywhere throughout the nation, and this number will be of particular interest to them, inasmuch as all varieties of commercial vehicles are pictured and described. Prospective buyers of motor-trucks are especially urged to buy THE DIGEST this week and read these interesting announcements.

Schonberg—Kohn.
The wedding of Miss Leah Elsie Kohn and Mr. Fred Schonberg was solemnized in the reception suite at the Deshler Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The arrangements were marked by the greatest simplicity, the bride couple having no attendants and only the members of the two families were in attendance.

The bride wore a traveling suit of blue with a black hat and her bouquet was a corsage arrangement of valley lilies and orchids. The marriage was solemnized by Rabbi Joseph S. Kornfeld.
Mr. and Mrs. Schonberg left on a wedding trip and on their return will be at home in Fairfield avenue after June 15.

Mr. Schonberg is associated in business here with his father, Mr. M. Schonberg.

Often the baby is fussy in his coach when put there to sleep. Have you as comfortable a foundation for your baby in his carriage as he has when he goes to sleep at night? Is the coach cushion free from wrinkles? After he has been made comfortable if he then cries and fusses, see if his clothes are wrinkled up under the arms or his feet uncovered or cold.

One cannot go far wrong when following the old rule of head, heel and feet warm, also do not jiggle him up and down, rock him to and fro, or shake the coach from side to side. How would you like some giant to pick you up and do all these things to you when you were feeling nauseated or a little upset? And really half the time all the baby wants is to be made warm and "comfy" and above all, to be let alone.

Milady's Boudoir

Drink Milk for Flesh.
The milk diet is the best flesh producer I know of. The day you commence the diet drink a couple of glasses of hot water upon arising, and fifteen minutes later eat half a dozen prunes which have soaked all night in a tumbler of warm water. Also drink the prune juice. Fifteen minutes after this take a glass and a half of milk and thereafter every hour until four or four-thirty in the afternoon. Eat your evening meal as usual, letting it consist of plainly cooked foods.

Do not drink the milk hurriedly, but remember it is just as much a food as beefsteak and requires the same amount of chewing. Swish the milk around in the mouth before swallowing as in this way it is almost entirely digested before it reaches the stomach. While on this diet be sure that the eliminative organs function properly.

Do not take the milk too cold, but let it stand until the chill is off and it is pleasant to take. Also do not take the milk too close to bedtime. Rather get up a little earlier in the morning so you can commence taking the milk earlier. The first week take three or three and one-half quarts of milk, the second week five quarts, and the third and succeeding weeks at least six quarts.

For the first week drink a glass and a half of milk every hour during the day. Continue the hot water and prunes as directed for the first week, but omit the evening meal this week and the weeks following. The third week take two glasses of milk every hour during the day and continue the hot water and prunes.

THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

MEATY DISHES.
RAGOUT OF MUTTON.—One and one-half pounds of neck of mutton, cut into small pieces; one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one onion, one carrot, one-half can of peas, two cupsful of hot water, one teaspoonful of salt, one bay leaf, sprig of parsley. Simmer slowly until tender and add peas last, when meat is done.

Meat Dish.—Take one pound of bottom round, run through meat grinder, also one-half pound of fat salt pork. Cook till done in the spider. Add salt. Now add one quart of boiling water. Mix in cornmeal to make a thick pudding, turn into tin and let cool. Cut in slices and fry in pork fat. Serve with fried potatoes.

Ham Timbales.—Cook two tablespoonfuls of flour in one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, add slowly one cupful of milk and season with a dash each of salt and cayenne. When smooth and thick add one cupful of finely chopped ham, one-half cupful of stale breadcrumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and one beaten egg. Turn into buttered timbale molds. Stand them in a pan of boiling water and bake about twenty-five minutes. Unmold and serve with white or drawn butter sauce.

Roast Spare Ribs and Potatoes.—Salt and pepper, dredge ribs with flour and put in small roaster or dripping pan in hot oven for fifteen minutes; add one cupful of hot water, shaved onion if desired. Cover closely and lower heat of oven. Parboil smooth white potatoes and put in with roast. Baste occasionally with liquid in pan, adding a little hot water at times. Fifteen minutes before serving uncover meat to brown. Remove potatoes to plate, baste with liquid from pan and a little melted butter and set on upper grate of oven to form a brown crust.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

Those in need of repairs for the coming harvest for Deering, Milwaukee, Osborn or Plano machines, we ask to come in and order at once as the repairs are now
 sold for cash by the company and the stock is not so large or complete.

Ordering now will save you express and telephone charges.

 pany at York, Pa., are in the city today inspecting the local plant, with the probability that the York company may install the automatic system.

Condition Improved.
 The condition of Ross Davidson of Newark, Fourth, who was threatened with an attack of typhoid fever, is greatly improved and he is now considered out of danger.

Will Discuss War Issues.
 Rev. C. H. Stull, pastor of the First Baptist church has announced two sermons to be delivered next Sunday night and the Sunday following, on the subject, "The Greater Issues of the Greater War."

Fined for Begging.
 Three offenders faced Mayor R. C.
 Biggie in police court this morning,
 a local drunk, who was fined $5
 and the costs and two strangers, one from the vicinity of Homer and the other from Pittsburgh, both charged with intoxication and begging. They were also assessed $5 and the costs and the three were returned to prison, not being able financially to meet the requirements necessary to secure their freedom.

Donnelly on Vacation.
 James Donnelly, day chauffeur at the patrol station is enjoying a two weeks vacation, most of which time he expects to pass in the garden
 which he is cultivating at his home in West Harrison street. He invites his brother officers to call and receive instructions as to the proper method of handling and planting various vegetables, especially prized tubers, of which he has several varieties. During Officer Donnelly's absence his place will be filled by William Hinger, night chauffeur, and a close rival for honors with his brother officer in the garden championship.

VAUDEVILLE TO
HELP ENTERTAIN
EXPO. THRONGS

The big exposition building along the canal between Fifth and Sixth streets is a busy place today, scores of workmen being engaged in getting everything ready for the Merchants and Manufacturers show which opens next Monday evening.

There were carpenters, painters, electricians, decorators, in fact skilled men in all trades busy as beavers, whipping everything into shape for the big exposition. The electricians will have completed their work by evening, but the merchants and manufacturers will be busy for the next few days arranging the booths and placing the exhibits.

There are sixty booths and all are being attractively decorated for the displays which will be made in them.
 It will be a varied show and interesting, well worth coming miles to see. The committee will rush the work day and night and when the works are opened to the public next Monday night, everything will be in readiness and running in ship-shape.

The program of entertainment was added today when the amusement committee contracted with a well known vaudeville team to give a number of exhibitions daily throughout the week. There will be many other attractive features.

The Buckeye band will furnish music all week, there will be fun gallops and everyone attending will return a number of times before the exposition comes to an end.

The affair is given under the auspices of the Rotary club, and Rotarians from Columbus, Zanesville and other cities will be present to take in the big show of their Newark brothers. The entire proceeds from the exposition will be turned over to the Newark branch of the Red Cross. The admission is but ten cents and everyone should add this worthy cause and boost the same by attending the exposition
 every day while it lasts.

BOOST BOND SALE

LET US GIVE
METALLIC BADGES
TO SOLDIER BOYS

The people all over town are endorsing the proposal to present to each Licking county soldier and sailor boy a suitable badge or medal as a community gift.

Advocate reporters have made a special effort to feel public sentiment and everywhere the idea is commended. Letters coming to this office approve the suggestion and readers are telephoning their endorsement.

By accepting 10 cent subscriptions even the children will be privileged to join in this recognition to our boys. It has been suggested that no one person be given credit for more than 25 cents. This need not prevent one from giving a dollar, $5, $25 or more but each will be asked to furnish a name for every 25 cents or less contributed. If he gives a dollar he must give it in four names or have all he gives above 25 cents registered simply as "cash."

A design for the badge has not been determined upon as yet, but it is proposed that each badge or medal carry the name and address of the owner.

Editor of The Advocate:
 Certainly we are all in favor of badges for the boys when they register. But why so much talk? Let us do something. Inclosed find my dollar. That will buy a badge or two and possibly leave something for the Red Cross. I am very truly yours.
 Will H. Miles.

Editor of The Advocate:
 Go ahead with your plan of getting badges for the soldier boys.
 Start the subscription and everybody will fall in line as much as you do not propose to ask sums large enough to embarrass anybody.
 Who would want to refuse 10 cents for such a purpose?
 Arthur E. Willert.

Editor of The Advocate:
 By all means let us raise a fund to buy badges for our soldier boys. The way to do it is as you suggest—accept contributions of 10 cents up.
 Make it a popular subscription by receiving small sums and get everybody interested. The boys will certainly appreciate this little mark of recognition.
 Chas. C. Metz.

Editor of The Advocate:
 I fully endorse the proposition to give a metallic badge or medal to every Licking county soldier. I can not think of any reason why one should not approve your suggestion.
 John C. Krieg.

Editor of The Advocate:
 I hope sincerely that the suggestion to get badges for our boys who go into the army or navy will not be allowed to fail. The idea is a good one and every young man who enters the service will feel honored to accept a badge as the gift of his home folks.
 R. W. Howard.

Editor of The Advocate:
 I read with interest the several communications published in yesterday's Advocate endorsing the suggestion to present a medal or badge to every Licking county young man who gives his services to the country during this war. The idea is approved by all with whom I have talked. Everybody ought to be glad to contribute a few cents to such a fund and I am told that the man to ask for subscriptions from 10 cents up.
 M. J. Reese.

Editor of The Advocate:
 Give our soldier boys a medal or
 medalion with some proper design,
 not because they ask for them or
 even expect them, but because the loyal masses of our citizens take pride in bestowing such honors as is
 in their power to give.
 So far as the act of enlistment is concerned, the boys have no thought
 of tomorrow, whether the war will end in a few months or continue through years. Man's greatest reward comes from his unselfish intentions added to his endeavors to do, rather than what he really accomplishes.
 How suggestive that the seal of
 the United States contains the American eagle with an Olive branch
 of peace prominently displayed in its
 right talon and a bundle of arrows
 in its left.
 When the all persuasive power
 of the former has become exhausted,
 then the people in one solid imbalance as one man to defend the principles of our government.
 As human nature remains constant throughout the centuries, we believe we are sending boys with the spirit of Arnold Winkelried who changed defeat into a grand victory
 on the memorable field of Sem-pach, over 500 years ago; with the spirit
 of our own Nathan Hale; of Washington who brushed aside the proffered
 crown and set his own slaves
 free; of unnumbered men who helped to achieve victory in all of our wars.

 of peace prominently displayed in its
 right talon and a bundle of arrows
 in its left.
 When the all persuasive power
 of the former has become exhausted,
 then the people in one solid imbalance as one man to defend the principles of our government.
 As human nature remains constant throughout the centuries, we
 believe we are sending boys with
 the spirit of Arnold Winkelried who
 changed defeat into a grand victory
 on the memorable field of Sem-
 pach, over 500 years ago; with the spirit
 of our own Nathan Hale; of Washington who brushed aside the proffered
 crown and set his own slaves
 free; of unnumbered men who helped to achieve victory in all of our
 wars.
 O. C. Larason.

Editor of The Advocate:
 Give our soldier boys a medal or
 medalion with some proper design,
 not because they ask for them or
 even expect them, but because the
 loyal masses of our citizens take pride in bestowing such honors as is
 in their power to give.
 So far as the act of enlistment is
 concerned, the boys have no thought
 of tomorrow, whether the war will
 end in a few months or continue through years. Man's greatest reward comes from his unselfish intentions added to his endeavors to
 do, rather than what he really
 accomplishes.
 How suggestive that the seal of
 the United States contains the American eagle with an Olive branch
 of peace prominently displayed in its
 right talon and a bundle of arrows
 in its left.
 When the all persuasive power
 of the former has become exhausted,
 then the people in one solid imbalance as one man to defend the principles of our government.
 As human nature remains constant throughout the centuries, we believe we are sending boys

INTEREST GROWS IN WORK OF RED CROSS IN NEWARK

Interest in the securing of funds for the Red Cross has been given an impetus and Newark is but one of the many cities in the United States making valiant efforts to secure a large sum for the work of relief.

Thirteen members were added yesterday bringing the total membership enrolled at the headquarters in the Arcade up to 2361. Plans are being made to give a number of benefits, and it is probable a dancing party will be arranged to add funds to the treasury.

A number of fraternal organizations have signified the intention of giving entertainments of different kinds to secure money for the work, and throughout the city a greater interest is felt.

The president of the local chapter Rev. L. P. Franklin and Dr. W. H. Lewis are in Washington attending the new Red Cross Council. The council is headed by Henry P. Davidson, and the first conference was held Thursday, at which time plans were made for the $100,000,000 war relief fund. Representatives of more than 40 cities were present.

Today Former President Taft will confer with representatives of the various Red Cross chapters. Herbert C. Hoover will present recommendations for the rehabilitation of northern France.

Outlining the war council's plan Mr. Davidson said in part:

"When our men go to France we must not only prepare to take care of them when sick and wounded; another very serious problem will confront them and will confront us in our care and fore thought on their behalf. Our American soldiers must have a home in France, somewhere to rest, somewhere to find a friendly atmosphere, somewhere to go for recreation and wholesome amusement. The Red Cross must—and it alone can—become a real foster parent of our soldiers when they are in Europe. To perform that function well will require a large sum of money."

"The needs of France cannot but stir the heart of every American. Tuberculosis has become prevalent as a result of this treacherous war. And the disease is spreading. Here is a call not only to aid the brave and liberty loving French people but also to help make this afflicted country healthy for our own sons and brothers who are soon to be there in such great numbers."

"Some 1,500, town and villages have been destroyed in France. In her devastated regions, men, women and children are homeless and suffering for the bare necessities of life. We ought at the earliest possible moment to provide these peoples with the simplest essentials to begin life anew. We should do something and do it immediately to hearten afflicted Russia. On the Russian line of 1,000 miles there are only 6,000 ambulances, while on the French front of four hundred miles there are 64,000 ambulances fully equipped. Behind the lines in Russia are millions of refugees, Poland, Lithuania and western Russia, driven from their homes by the German and Austrian armies, wander from city to city, crowded into unfit habitations, hurried in stables, cellars and outposts and dying from disease due to insufficient food."

"Probably nothing that can be done immediately will do more to win this war than to strengthen Russia. The opportunity and the duty here alone are almost without limit. Our Red Cross is the one agency which can exert itself effectively in this terrible emergency."

"Indeed the duties and the opportunities which confront our Red Cross have no precedent in history and are not within human estimate today. The war council, therefore after carefully considering the matter, is certain that even to approach compliance with the most promising needs will require at least $100,000,000."

"If each individual American now contributes his bit there can be no failure. America will feel sure in this, again, to demonstrate her ability to handle a big task in a big way. That we may be able to perform this great task, we shall appeal to the generosity and for the hearty cooperation of the whole American people."

A few days ago the Red Cross inserted a notice in the daily papers asking for volunteers to help in the sale of tickets for the "Made in Newark Show." The proceeds of the show are to be given to war relief and it is as a patriotic service that the following girls' clubs have responded.

The Swastika Club, Virginia Miller, Pres., a little sewing club of eleven girls; the P. A. C., Margaret Hawkins, Pres.; the Blue Bird, Dorothy Willey, Pres.; Girls of the Golden Chain, Ada Andrews, Pres.; the Mount Builders, Alice Hoffman, Pres.; Jaswedo, Ethel Powell, Pres. The last five are all Y. W. C. A. clubs.

Several of the Junior girls of the Newark High School are working independently. The tickets are not hard to sell. The are only ten cents and everybody will want to go at least once. Many people are buying them in bunches of five and ten and even more.

For information call at Red Cross headquarters, 16 Arcade.

BOY SCOUTS--NOTICE.
All Boy Scouts of Newark with their scout masters are called to assemble at the interurban station at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. We shall march to a near by drill ground and receive instruction in the use of fire extinguishers by Mr. Simms of the Avery-Loeb Electrical Co. We shall also receive final orders for Memorial Day.

All will return to the city in time to attend the boys and girls congress which assembles in the Plymouth Congregational church.

All who attend the drill on Saturday morning will be given tickets for the Home Products Exposition at the Tabernacle next week. We have a great plan for that week. Let every Scout be present if possible.

HAPPY OUTCOME TO THE VISIT OF MRS. MARY HUNNEL

It Brought Her Knowledge Of Nerv-Worth and Nerv-Worth Brought Her Better Health.

This is a typical case. Very often sick folks go away from home for "a change of air and scene" and at their destination read Nerv-Worth endorsements and talk to Nerv-Worth enthusiasts about this wonderful family tonic which has brought thousands of sufferers up out of the slough of ill health.

Mrs. Hunnel of Middletown, O., did that at Ironton, O., and this is what came of it:

"Ball-Warfield Drug Co.—I have been visiting relatives in your city for some time. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised in a little folder distributed from your store. The testimonials from people who had been benefited in Huntington and other nearby places gave me faith in the tonic and I sent down to your store and purchased one bottle. I am now taking the second bottle. When I came to Ironton I was in a very weak condition on account of a spell of sickness just before coming here. I was nervous and did not rest well. I AM FEELING VERY MUCH BETTER EVERY WAY. My appetite is good. Sleep well. I am glad to have the chance to recommend Nerv-Worth."

MRS. MARY HUNNEL, Middletown, Ohio.

Your dollar back at the T. J. Evans Drug Store, Newark, that sells you Nerv-Worth if this tonic does not benefit YOU. C. S. Howard sells Nerv-Worth at Johnston, W. R. Ullman at Grangeville; Hebron Drug Co. at Hebron; Utica Drug Store at Utica. 5-25-28—Adv.

MUCH TALK CREATED AMONG MEN OF THIS CITY

Since Mr. Wales Collins, the Haberdasher, has had the good fortune in securing the agency for the Hatch "One Button" Union Suits for Newark. Until now men were obliged to journey to larger cities for these new garments, but as the exclusive Mens store of Newark, Mr. Collins was able to secure a limited supply for the local trade. Mr. Collins is being congratulated daily for his success in securing these "One Button" garments. Just a single button, which fastens on the front of the chest, eliminating the blue unnecessary buttons of the old style garments.

TOM HARE HERE TONIGHT.

One of the speakers at this evening's session of the County Sunday School Convention at the Central Church of Christ will be Tom Hare, the man who led the dry forces some years ago when West Virginia went for prohibition by a majority of 92,000. He is one of the strong temperance speakers in this State today.

W. C. METZ HEADS LOCAL COMMITTEE FOR LIBERTY BONDS

The Columbus district which includes Licking county has been allotted approximately ten million dollars worth of Liberty Loan bonds. The central committee of which P. L. Schneider, Columbus banker, is chairman, has appointed Walter C. Metz president of the Newark Trust Company, chairman of the Licking county and has notified all bankers in this county, who are asked to join in a local organization to promote the sale of Liberty bonds in this community.

The bankers are accepting this service as a patriotic duty and will use their best endeavor to distribute among the people the share of the bonds allotted to this section. The Liberty bonds are not only a good investment paying 3 1/2 per cent with out taxation but the sale of the two billion dollar issue will help to bring victory to American arms.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, O., May 25—At present, weather conditions seem unfavorable to the great annual carnival on Shepherd campus which this year is designed to rouse the patriotism of all belated. At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning the college finals in singles and doubles will be played on the Shepherd tennis court. At 2:30 the procession of the allies representing America, France, England and Russia will march to the throne of Columbia and her attendants, Liberty, Justice and Equality, represented by Ruth Wickenden, Laura Price, Juliet Barker and Lenore McCutcheon. After singing a tribute to Columbia, "Oh Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

The play "Miss Fearless and Company" given by the girls of the Adelphean literary society in Recital hall last evening for the benefit of the Red Cross, was a repetition of the artistic triumph of its first presentation last week. Miss Sefton deserves great praise for her success as coach and Mrs. August Oederich, chairman of the ways and means committee of the A. F. F. W., for the efficient way in which the details of the entire program were worked out. A fee of only ten cents was taken at the door, the performers were the center of the public school, and a good orchestra gave a pleasing program. The walls between acts were enjoyed by reason of a reading given by Miss Winifred Parsons, and a song by Miss Dorothy Wilson, both of which were received with warm appreciation by the audience. Nearly $15 were netted by the society in these ten cent admission fees.

The Granville public school has organized an appointment bureau by means of which all boys who desire work on Saturday's or during the summer vacation may secure employment. Any one wanting work done may apply to Prof. Cockayne.

The Women's Foreign Mission society of the Methodist church will hold its annual thank offering service on Sunday morning in the church. All are cordially invited. Mrs. H. H. Tibbe will deliver the address.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson has issued invitations to members of the Kappa Phi sorority, with all visiting and resident mothers of the sorority girls for Saturday evening, following the afternoon's carnival program on Shepherd campus.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Slack, who are visiting their daughter, Mrs. O. H. Burris, in Washington, D. C., will probably start on the return trip in their touring car tomorrow.

The Commons Club whose headquarters have been established recently in a pleasant house in North Mulberry street, entertained on Wednesday evening with a charmingly appointed dinner. The table was tastefully decorated with white flowers, and lighted by candles. Covers were laid for: Mrs. Finley, the Misses Holmes, Frances Martin Robinson, Deets, Hamilton, Alice May George, Given, Mary Martin, Epply, Means, Swinhart, Wistler, Ladmor, Grant, Grace Johnson and Margaret Seasholes, Messrs. Askin, Peterson, Allison, Woodrow, Spisak, Roush, Johnson, Ward, Putnam, R. W. White, Kelley, Boyer, Vance, Biars, Hotchkiss, Crilly and Jensen.

James Fosdick, 61 years old, died at 6 o'clock last night after a lingering illness. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home in Elm street. Burial in Maple Grove cemetery.

ENDURING GIFTS.
What about that gift to the graduate who expects something from you? You probably don't care to give an automobile or a diamond ring. Then go to Edmiston's Book Store, and have them show you a book that will exactly suit. Nothing could be more appropriate. It appeals to culture and refinement, and is enduring. It furnishes enjoyment and companionship, and it is within the price you want to pay.

The Edmiston Book Store makes a specialty of books for this purpose. They know. The price is right. Let them help you.
